MESSAGE FROM THE DEAN

A generation ago, a good ear, solid technique, sensitivity, and superb work ethic could put a young musician in good stead for a successful career.

While all these attributes remain crucial and elemental, today’s young musician needs much more.

As society changes, so does its expectations of artists. Collaboration is the new watchword. Young musicians can no longer simply be part of the world; they must be in the world.

Over the next few years, developing your versatility will be as important as developing your artistic voice. In fact, they will be one and the same.

Why is that? Because in the years ahead, poets and writers, dancers and educators, scientists and historians will be looking to you, both for your ideas and for your music. Together, you will take creative experience to a new and exciting place.

Nearly a century ago, Georges Longy set out to start a school that would train “true musicians.” Today, we remain committed to that ideal. We want you, our students, to recognize the power of teaching, to be clear thinkers, to compose, improvise, and understand narrative and poetry. We want you to acknowledge — and to understand — the underpinnings that join the arts to all human experience.

In fact, we want the world for you.

Wayman Chin
Dean of the Conservatory
MISSION STATEMENT

Longy School of Music prepares musicians to make a difference in the world.

Longy is a degree-granting conservatory and community-based school of preparatory and continuing studies with a curriculum rooted in the tradition of western art music. Its faculty promotes profound musical understanding and technical mastery, encourages growth of imagination, and fosters an attitude of inquiry about the role of music and the musician in the larger world.

We make a school-wide commitment to:

- Uphold uncompromising standards of musical excellence
- Provide an expert faculty for all of our students
- Offer programs which provide our students with opportunities to engage with the world in new ways
- Help each student realize his or her individual potential

We value:

- The transformational power of music
- The joy of making and sharing music with others
- The art of teaching
- Honest, ongoing assessment
- Respect for the individual
- A diverse and supportive community
- Dynamic interaction with the larger world
- Creative thought and innovation
- The freedom to explore
- Advocacy for our art
THE VISION FOR LONGY

How do you prepare musicians to make a difference in the world?

Ask them to be great. Provide them with the most rigorous education. Hold students of all ages to the highest standards of uncompromising excellence. Inspire them to be artists who can move hearts, enlighten minds, cross boundaries, and bridge divides. Show them how exceptional musicians must also be exceptional human beings.

Then ask them to be leaders. Motivate them to walk not just the well-trod paths but to blaze new ones, forging opportunities for themselves and others as they go. Provoke them, as they’re learning and refining musical skills, to consider where those skills can take them.

Nurture collaboration, since great leaders must also be great listeners. Focus on chamber music where, in the absence of a conductor, students must assume the responsibility for finding their own voices.

Instill an entrepreneurial spirit and build critical thinking skills in students to match their musical abilities. Teach them how to start a slow movement one day, to launch a concert series the next and to perform in concert halls, clubs, and anywhere they can find a hungry audience.

Inspire students at every level to dream of how their music can transform their lives and the lives of others. Help them to articulate their dreams and then put them into practice. Create partnerships with businesses, schools, and neighbors where students can test their ideas in the real world.

Create an environment for incubation — a place where great musicians and great ideas can be cultivated. Make it a diverse place where difference can broaden minds and enlarge perspectives. Keep it intimate, so individual attention is guaranteed. Prize collaboration and creativity as highly as musical prowess. Encourage every student to ask their peers — “How can I help you achieve your dreams?”

This is how Longy School of Music will prepare musicians to make a difference in the world: by establishing a new model for music education. An education that teaches students of all ages to be extraordinary musicians and human beings, while challenging them to find new ways to change the world through music.

This is our dream. This is our vision.
As performers, composers, conductors, and teachers, Longy faculty members are dedicated to developing insightful, articulate, and technically refined musicians. The school’s emphasis on individual instruction, small classes, and faculty-student collaboration enables degree and diploma candidates to define, clarify, and attain their goals.

CONSERVATORY CATALOG 2010–2011
Longy’s degree and diploma programs are designed to prepare students for lives as committed and articulate advocates of music. In classes, lessons, rehearsals, and performances, the highest standard of excellence is expected. A rigorous curriculum, emphasizing the refinement and cultivation of the physical, intellectual, and expressive dimension, informs the experience of every Longy student.

The Undergraduate Diploma program (which may be expanded to a Bachelor of Music Degree through Longy’s joint program with Emerson College), with its intense focus on musicianship, seeks to develop the core foundational skills necessary for its candidates to pursue more advanced study and to enter professional life. The Master of Music Degree program offers advanced study in musicianship, analysis, and interpretation and performance, while the Graduate Performance Diploma, open to candidates who demonstrate the same musical maturity and musicianship as those in the Master of Music program, allows for greater focus on performance and related study. The Artist Diploma program offers exceptional candidates the opportunity to focus intensively on performance work.

Longy is also a leading center for the study of Dalcroze Eurhythmics and offers the Dalcroze Certificate and License.
SPECIAL FEATURES

12 SPECIAL FEATURES OF THE CURRICULUM

Longy School of Music offers degree or diploma programs in twelve departments. These are well-conceived and richly appointed with numerous specialized courses. In addition, several special features of the curriculum provide defining experiences for Longy students, bringing students from different departments together and encouraging collaboration, exploration, and musical and personal growth.

EXPERIENTIAL EDUCATION

The Experiential Education Program (EEP) is a vital component of Longy’s Conservatory curriculum, designed to prepare students for an increasingly diverse and complex world, to prepare them – in the words of our mission statement – “to make a difference in the world.”

Required of all students, this two-semester course includes active learning experiences, discussions, foundational readings, and interactive presentations. It culminates in student-designed and -led musical projects in various community venues in the greater Boston-Cambridge area. Throughout the year, students explore and strengthen the skills required to engage and communicate with audiences of all ages and backgrounds. They are challenged to think more deeply and broadly about music, its role in society, their career options, and the best use of their skills.

The first semester of the course includes:

- Introductory thinking: Key readings on the role of the arts and music in society and in education are included throughout the semester. Students address fundamental questions about how different audiences might be engaged. An experience in an artistic discipline other than music allows students to grapple with issues of familiarity, “expertise,” accessibility, and expectation.
- Skill Building: The use of questioning techniques and contextual information within musical events is addressed. Students gain experience designing active musical experiences for various ages and audiences and learn about optimal structuring of these experiences.
- Writing: Keeping a journal is a central component of the semester, where students are asked to relate ideas encountered in class and in readings to their own lives, experiences, and aspirations. Students also complete several essays and other brief writing assignments.
- Project Development: Students will also be guided in the beginning stages of designing their own musical projects, which they will carry out in the community under the guidance of an individual faculty mentor in the second semester. Students have the opportunity to try out their project ideas in a class laboratory setting, where they refine and sharpen their thinking and their communication skills.

The second semester of the course includes:

- Experiential Education Program Project: The pinnacle of the EEP experience is that each student, whether individually or in a group, will complete a multi-session musical project that engages an audience or population in the wider community. Each group will be responsible for organizing the logistics of the venue, as well as designing and presenting the content of the project. Students will choose their own faculty mentors who will oversee and attend the sessions. Past projects have been presented at venues such as public, charter, and private schools, colleges, universities, senior centers, galleries, living rooms, fire houses, hospitals, prisons, and shelters.
- Career Seminars: While implementing their projects in an independent-study like structure, students also meet as a large class several times during the semester for seminars that include topics such as grant writing, managing a career post-Longy, the life of a teaching artist, specializing in school residencies, writing program notes, and creating promotional materials.
CHAMBER MUSIC
Chamber music has enjoyed pride of place at Longy School of Music since its founding in 1915. The promotion of this great art was essential to Georges Longy’s mission for the school; his belief and advocacy in the power of collaboration continues to inspire the work of Longy’s students and faculty. As an area of study for majors in instrumental and vocal performance, Early Music, and Modern American Music, or in the Artist Diploma program for established ensembles, chamber playing is a daily activity at the school.

The distinguished Pacifica Quartet, Longy’s Visiting Artists in Chamber Music since 2007, comes to the campus four times a year. During these visits, the quartet coaches instrumental and vocal chamber ensembles and works closely with students in Chamber Music Literature, Techniques of Chamber Music Coaching, Experiential Education, departmental seminars, and the Longy Chamber Orchestra. Through the annual Pacifica Quartet competition, Conservatory students also have the opportunity to collaborate with the quartet in concert.

LONGY CHAMBER ORCHESTRA
The Longy Chamber Orchestra (LCO), consisting of all string, woodwind, and brass students, is the primary ensemble for orchestral training and repertoire at Longy. The LCO presents six concerts per season, exploring a wide range of repertoire encompassing baroque and contemporary music in addition to the classical and romantic orchestral canon.

Concerts are performed in Longy’s Pickman Hall with occasional performances off-campus. Sectionals and training sessions with faculty members provide well-rounded instruction in orchestral technique, and collaborations with guest soloists afford students an opportunity to work with outstanding musicians from around the world.

The LCO also performs with Longy’s Opera Department in one fully-staged opera per season, works together with Longy’s composition department in a reading and workshop of student compositions, and participates in Longy’s concerto competition. The final concert of each academic year typically includes a work by a Longy student composer and a work performed with a concerto competition winner followed by a major orchestral work.

LONGITUDE
Longitude, Longy’s new-music ensemble, is dedicated to the study and performance of 20th- and 21st-century music. The group performs three concerts per year and collaborates with Longy’s composition department in the “Longitude Commissioning Project,” a workshop and performance of premières written by student composers. Longitude’s concerts feature masterworks of the 20th century as well as the newest contemporary pieces, often working directly with composers in the process. Recent guests have included Leon Kirchner, John Harbison, Lee Hyla, and Donald Crockett, as well as Longy’s own composition faculty.

IMPROVISATION
Longy musicians practice solo and ensemble improvisation in a number of settings, and at least one improvisation course is required for students in the Undergraduate Diploma and Master of Music programs. Curricular offerings in Dalcroze Eurhythmics, Modern American Music, Voice, and Early Music allow students to develop deeper levels of creativity and greater expressive freedom, always emphasizing the crucial relationship between the imagination and the ear.

MIND/BODY PROGRAM
Realizing one’s full potential as a musician goes beyond what a student can learn in lessons and classes. Attaining a level of outstanding achievement as a performer depends not only on acquiring requisite musical tools but also on the integration of the physical, artistic, and emotional, through which the individual can acquire the confidence to perform with individuality, spirit, and communicative power.

Some Mind/Body Program course offerings focus on specific body-based disciplines, such as the Alexander Technique, the Feldenkrais Method®, and yoga, while others take a broader look at the role of mind and body with respect to musical performance.

The Alexander Technique works largely through kinesthetic awareness of the head, neck, and back relationship. F. M. Alexander found that this relationship not only reflects our physical, mental, and emotional states, but also plays an essential role in governing the overall coordination of our various faculties. Musicians have long recognized the Alexander Technique as an effective aid for improving coordination, perception, and control and for expressing their artistic intentions.

The Feldenkrais Method® educates the body/mind kinesthetically through precise observation and experiencing of the body’s natural movement patterns that underlie and strengthen subtle movements of the hands and fingers, the feet and toes, and the breath and vocal apparatus. Students learn how to access skeletal movement for greater mobility, to ensure connection and support in playing and performing, and how to rediscover natural coordination and integrated physical functioning.

Longy’s faculty practitioners also advocate for psychological well-being. Working with individuals and in group sessions, faculty members address performance anxiety, effective practicing, audition skills, student-teacher relationships, understanding and handling criticism, self-esteem, and other issues that can limit or strengthen performance. Mental skills training involves a combination of proven techniques, including deep guided visualization, relaxation techniques, and cognitive techniques to eliminate negative thought patterns.

Longy also provides guidance in case of physical injury by referring performers to well-informed medical practitioners.
GRADUATE PROGRAMS

MASTER OF MUSIC DEGREE

Students in the two-year Master of Music program develop broad musical expertise while pursuing an intensive curriculum in their major area of study. School-wide requirements, taken by all Master’s candidates, include Experiential Education, Research and Materials, and Introduction to Eurhythmics. Distribution requirements allow students to choose from a range of courses in improvisation, music history, music theory, and mind/body studies. Master’s candidates must also demonstrate proficiency in music theory, music history, and piano skills, passing proficiency examinations or review courses in each of these areas before graduation. With the exception of the Composition, Dalcroze, and Opera departments, the first year of study concludes with a promotional jury or recital, at which students must demonstrate satisfactory progress in the major instrument; the second year culminates in a final degree recital.

Major Areas: Collaborative Piano, Composition, Dalcroze Eurhythmics, Early Music, Modern American Music, Opera, Organ, Piano, Strings, Voice, and Woodwinds and Brass.

Level: Graduate (conservatory diploma, bachelor’s degree, or demonstrated equivalent required).

GRADUATE PERFORMANCE DIPLOMA

This traditional conservatory program allows graduate-level pianists, singers, and instrumentalists to focus intensively on performance. Each of four semesters includes individual instruction and appropriate ensemble opportunities. The single school-wide requirement for Graduate Performance Diploma candidates is Experiential Education. For students in all departments except Opera, the first year concludes with a promotional jury or recital, at which students must demonstrate satisfactory progress in the major instrument; the second year culminates in a final diploma recital.

Level: Graduate (conservatory diploma, bachelor’s degree, or demonstrated equivalent required).

Normal Program Length and Credits: 2 years, 30 credits required for graduation.
ARTIST DIPLOMA

The Artist Diploma is Longy’s highest performance credential and is awarded to exceptionally gifted performers who show outstanding promise for a professional career in music. The Artist Diploma program is designed with flexibility in mind so that its candidates can focus their energies exclusively on performance and performance-related study. Lessons with the primary studio instructor, or in the case of an Artist Diploma ensemble, the primary coach, are the mainstay of the curriculum. The only school-wide requirement for Artist Diploma candidates is Experiential Education, which involves one semester of individualized study, designed in consultation with the Director of Experiential Education and the Dean of the Conservatory. Elective credits are also made available so that each candidate can pursue areas of personal interest, within the performance area or in allied areas of theory and composition, mind/body studies, Dalcroze Eurhythmics, or Modern American Music.

In addition to aspiring solo and orchestral musicians, the program is open to established chamber ensembles. At the time of application, Artist Diploma candidates must possess clarity and maturity of artistic expression and a deep commitment to pursuing a performance career, along with a record of previous professional-level performance experience.

Major Areas: Chamber Music, Collaborative Piano, Early Music, Organ, Piano, Strings, Voice, and Woodwinds and Brass.

Level: Advanced Graduate (conservatory diploma, bachelor’s degree, or demonstrated equivalent required).

DALCROZE CERTIFICATE AND LICENSE

These internationally recognized credentials are offered by special arrangement with the Institut Jacques-Dalcroze of Geneva, Switzerland. They are awarded by examination after intensive study of Eurhythmics, solfège, improvisation, and Dalcroze teaching methods. The Certificate qualifies candidates to teach children and adult beginners. The License entitles the holder to teach adults at all levels. Successful applicants have strong general musical skills, good basic training in voice or piano, and the motivation to teach.

The Dalcroze Certificate program entails two years of full-time study, enrollment in the three-week Longy Summer Dalcroze Institute for two summers (taken for credit), and successful completion of the portfolio and all required examinations. Dalcroze Certificate candidates pursuing their programs during the academic year must also participate in the Experiential Education course sequence.

At the discretion of the faculty, students who have completed their principal training in other countries or at other institutions may earn the Dalcroze Certificate after thorough documentation of previous studies, enrollment in at least three Longy Summer Dalcroze Institutes (taken for credit), and successful completion of the portfolio and all required examinations.

The Dalcroze License is awarded to Certificate-holders with Dalcroze teaching experience upon completion of Methods III (a two-semester course offered during the academic year), proof of professional attainment, and successful completion of the License portfolio and examinations. Required License coursework for students who have already earned the Dalcroze Certificate through Longy includes Methods III. For students who hold the Certificate from other institutions, the faculty will devise a program of required License coursework. One-year, full- or part-time License programs are available to qualified students, and the License may be pursued through summer study alone at the discretion of the faculty. Summer License candidates must enroll in at least one Dalcroze Summer Institute for credit. Additional summers, taken for credit, may be required.

Dalcroze training is highly personal, and the timeframe for completion of the requirements may vary widely among students. Students who wish to pursue the Dalcroze Certificate or License through summer study alone must complete the Abbreviated Application for Admission for Summer Dalcroze Certificate and License Candidates, available upon request, and be approved for Certificate- or License-seeking status by the faculty.

Level: Graduate (conservatory diploma, bachelor’s degree, or demonstrated equivalent required).

Normal Program Length and Credits: 2 years, 36 credits required for graduation for the Dalcroze Certificate. Length of residency and credits required for graduation variable for the Dalcroze License.
UNDERGRADUATE PROGRAMS

UNDERGRADUATE DIPLOMA

The Undergraduate Diploma is a four-year course of musical study, providing thorough, rigorous, and comprehensive training for talented performers and composers. Undergraduates often work alongside graduate students in ensembles and performance and repertory courses.

School-wide requirements for the Undergraduate Diploma include Fundamentals of Musicianship (12 credits, taken over 6 semesters), Harmony (8 credits, taken over 4 semesters), Music History, including 20th- and 21st-century History and Analysis (8 credits, taken over 4 semesters), Form and Analysis (4 credits, taken over 2 semesters), Counterpoint (2 credits, 1 semester), Introduction to Eurhythmics (2 credits, taken over 2 semesters), and Improvisation (1 credit, 1 semester, to be selected from the list of improvisation distribution requirements). In addition, all Undergraduate Diploma candidates must participate in Experiential Education (2 credits, taken over 2 semesters), during their third or fourth years of study, and pass a proficiency examination in piano.

For students in performance departments, a promotional jury demonstrating satisfactory progress in the major instrument must be passed at the end of the first, second, and third years of study. Undergraduate Diploma candidates may elect to present a third-year recital instead of the promotional jury, and a fourth-year Diploma recital is required of all performance majors.

Major Areas: Composition, Organ, Piano, Strings, Voice, and Woodwinds and Brass.

Level: Undergraduate (high school diploma or demonstrated equivalent required).

Normal Program Length and Credits: 4 years, 95 credits required for graduation (97 in the Woodwinds and Brass Department).

BACHELOR OF MUSIC DEGREE (JOINT PROGRAM WITH EMERSON COLLEGE)

Through an arrangement with Emerson College, students enrolled in Longy’s Undergraduate Diploma program may simultaneously pursue the Bachelor of Music Degree at Emerson College in Boston. Interested students must independently apply and be accepted to both institutions and will incur additional, part-time tuition charges at Emerson. In addition to completing all requirements for the Undergraduate Diploma at Longy, students must successfully complete Emerson’s general education curriculum, which includes coursework in oral and written communication skills, the arts and humanities, history, social and behavioral sciences, mathematics and science, and foreign language. Completion of the program may require that students extend their residency beyond four years or take classes during one or two summer sessions. Interested students should contact the Admissions Office at Longy.
CHAMBER MUSIC

Wayman Chin, Chair
Program: Artist Diploma
Graduate Performance Diploma
The Graduate Performance Diploma in Chamber Music program provides musicians thorough and comprehensive study in the art and practice of chamber music through rigorous training in performance, the study of major works of the chamber music repertoire, and study in the techniques of chamber music coaching. Pre-formed ensembles (duos through quintets) work and study together as a group and present one recital during the first year of study and two recitals during the second. An essential component of the program is the study of new music, with each ensemble member participating in Longitude, Longy’s new-music ensemble, for two semesters. Students round out their programs by taking elective classes and/or individual instruction.

The Artist Diploma program in Chamber Music is open to established chamber ensembles that exhibit exceptional promise for a performing career. Ensembles will be assigned to a principal Longy faculty coach and can also work with additional faculty mentors, as well as the Pacifica Quartet and other distinguished visiting artists.

Requirements

The requirements for the Artist Diploma in Chamber Music will be determined by the Dean of the Conservatory, in consultation with admitted Artist Diploma ensembles. Individual ensemble members must earn 20–22 credits to complete the program. Participation in the Experiential Education course sequence (individualized) is required.

COLLABORATIVE PIANO

Brian Moll, Chair of Vocal and Keyboard Studies
Programs: Artist Diploma
Master of Music Degree
Graduate Performance Diploma

The development of the resources and skills necessary for graduate-level pianists to be conversant, flexible, and sensitive partners is at the heart of the curriculum in Collaborative Piano. In private lessons, chamber coaching, and classes, students work closely with faculty dedicated to the art of collaborative performance. Classes in the techniques of vocal and chamber coaching, diction, continuo playing, and orchestral reduction seek to sharpen the student’s musical reflexes while repertoire classes, providing in-depth examination of art song, opera, and instrumental and vocal chamber music, aim to refine the student’s analytical and interpretive understanding of the literature. Distinguished musicians who have worked with collaborative pianists in recent years include Martin Katz, Warren Jones, Irma Vallecillo, Sheri Greenawald, and Joan Panetti.

Collaborative pianists are among the busiest and most sought-after of Longy’s student performers. In addition to end-of-semester class concerts and chamber music recitals, performance opportunities include departmental seminars and recitals, programs of new works by student and faculty composers, master classes by visiting artists, and opportunities off-campus with musicians in the Greater Boston area.

COMPOSITION

Libor Dudas, Chair of Historical and Theoretical Studies
Programs: Master of Music Degree
Undergraduate Diploma

Longy composers work in an artistic environment dedicated to public performance and supportive of new music. Longy composition students benefit from experienced mentoring and a collective commitment to high standards, academic inquiry, and, above all, close and constant collaboration with talented instrumentalists, singers, and pianists. Composition study centers on weekly individual lessons and the department seminar, which combines analytical workshops, faculty and student presentations, group composition lessons, performance critiques, and professional guidance. Offerings in analysis include courses in specialized areas such as the songs of Schubert, electroacoustic music, or the string quartets of Bartok, as well as in-depth examinations of 20th- and 21st-century repertoire and its performance practice. At the undergraduate level, an extensive musicianship curriculum centered on solfège and keyboard harmony develops students’ aural skills and their preparation for performance and teaching.

The Longy Computer Music Studio is designed to provide a state-of-the-art working environment for the composition of electroacoustic, live interactive, and multi-media work. Courses offered through the studio are composition oriented, and technical skills are developed through creative projects. The studio equipment is centered around an Apple Mac Pro computer, Logic Studio Pro, ProTools, and a Kurzweil k2500 keyboard. Composers also work heavily with computer music programming languages such as Max/Msp, Supercollider, and Csound. There are several computer music concerts a year, and student compositions range in styles including fixed media, live laptop improvisations using alternate controllers, and interactive multi-media pieces.

Student composers benefit from Boston’s lively and diverse new music scene and from appearances by visiting composers and advocates of contemporary music including, in recent years, Gunther Schuller, William Bolcom, Lee Hyla, Yehudi Wyner, Teresa Procaccini, Michel Gandolli, Leon Kirchner, Elliot Schwartz, Scott Wheeler, Elena Rheur, Evan Chambers, Ken Ueno, and Bernard Rands. In their recent visits to the Composition Seminar, the Pacifica Quartet, Longy’s Visiting Artists in Chamber Music, has discussed the string quartets of Carter and Ligeti, and through reading sessions of student work, provided technical insights into composing for string quartet.

Student composers have many opportunities for readings and public performances of their works, as well as the chance to develop their own performance abilities. Alongside productive informal work with student performers, composition majors hear their works in readings by chamber ensembles and the Longy Chamber Orchestra. Longitude, Longy’s new-music ensemble, reads and performs student works along with compositions by other contemporary composers. Master of Music candidates have the opportunity to submit an orchestral work for possible rehearsal and performance by the Longy Chamber Orchestra during their residency. In recent years, extensive collaborations with the Modern American Music Department have yielded joint concerts between the two departments, and collaborative work with Voice and String departments regularly leads to performance of student works in those departments’ concerts.

Dalcroze Eurhythmics is a unique and powerful way to cultivate musical awareness and understanding. It utilizes the physical response to music, redefining the coordination between ear, brain, and body, to develop musicianship and musical imagination in a joyful and stimulating way. An “embodied” sense of rhythm, harmony, and melody leads to vital performance and teaching. Dalcroze is an ideal area of specialization for the musician who loves many aspects of music-making: teaching, performing, creating, dancing, acting. It utilizes all the arts in a workshop for musical learning. Applicable to all ages and learning levels, it is suitable for the classroom, private studio, special-needs class, music therapy session, or college theory class.

Ordinarily a two-year course of study, including two three-week summer sessions, the Longy Dalcroze program leads to three possible credentials: the Dalcroze Certificate, an internationally recognized qualification to teach children and beginning adults according to Dalcroze principles; the Dalcroze License, an internationally recognized qualification to teach adults at all levels according to Dalcroze principles; and the Master of Music Degree in Dalcroze Eurhythmics. Dalcroze Certificate and Master of Music Degree students take the same Dalcroze coursework. License candidates must already hold the Dalcroze Certificate.

Dalcroze training has three interrelated branches of study: Eurhythmics, solfège, and improvisation. Eurhythmics develops the student’s spontaneous physical response to music through movement. Playful and interactive in nature, Eurhythmics is a challenging workout for the ear. Solfège is the study of tonal and rhythmic relations. Through intensive, physicalized ear-training, frameworks of hearing are developed that lead to skills of music literacy: sight-singing, dictation, harmonization, and analysis. Improvisation endorses and nurtures the basic and universal impulse to express one’s own musical ideas. In Dalcroze work, improvisation is studied as an art in itself and also as an indispensable tool for the Eurhythmics teacher. Improvised music (voice, percussion, piano) inspires and directs the movement activities of the Eurhythmics class.

To enter the Certificate or Master of Music program in Dalcroze, a bachelor’s degree in music or music education is recommended, although competency may be proven through audition and testing. An intermediate level of piano proficiency is required. A love of movement is highly desirable, but no special training in movement is necessary.
SUMMER DALCROZE INSTITUTE

Master of Music and Certificate candidates also participate in Longy’s intensive three-week Dalcroze Institute for two summers. This internationally recognized program allows students to work closely with leading Dalcroze exponents, including Anne Farber (Dalcroze School, New York), Karin Greenhead (Royal Northern College of Music; Trinity College, London), Ruth Alperson (Hoff-Barthelson Music School, New York), and Louise Mathieu (Laval University, Quebec). In addition to advanced work in core Eurhythmics and pedagogy subjects, the institute incorporates a number of specialized courses such as Plastique Animé and ensemble improvisation. Offering methods training to beginners in Dalcroze, the Institute also allows students with appropriate prior education and experience to pursue the Dalcroze Certificate or License over several summers. See page 17 for further details.

The Summer Dalcroze Institute may entail additional tuition charges. Full-time Master of Music and Dalcroze Certificate candidates who have already matriculated at Longy may waive the additional charges; part-time students cannot waive these charges.

Historically informed performance plays a central role in Longy’s artistic and academic life. The Early Music curriculum is rooted in a style- and repertory-based approach to music composed before 1800. Longy boasts extensive course offerings in historically informed performance, with specialist faculty in all areas of vocal, instrumental, and keyboard music from the Middle Ages through the eighteenth century.

Weekly studio instruction and performance courses, focused on specific early repertories, form the core of study. Students also learn the basics of figured bass accompaniment and period dance. The Early Music Department Seminar brings together department majors for master classes, lectures, and presentations on broad technical, historical, theoretical, and aesthetic issues, while Topics in Performance Practice courses allow students to research specialized areas of study. Extracurricular activities in Boston’s lively early music scene allow further opportunities for artistic and professional growth.

Early Music students perform frequently at Longy and throughout New England. Department concerts draw enthusiastic audiences, and students are fully integrated into the school’s general concert life. In the past several years, degree and diploma candidates have performed at the Boston Early Music Festival, Berkeley Early Music Festival, Society for Historically Informed Performance (SoHIP), and York (UK) Early Music Festival, and in concerts by the Waverly Consort, Harvard Baroque Orchestra, Philharmonia Baroque Orchestra, Seattle Baroque, and Boston Bach Ensemble. Several Boston concert series regularly feature Longy Early Music students.
INTERNATIONAL EARLY MUSIC INSTITUTES AT LONGY

During the summer months the Medieval Institute and the International Baroque Institute at Longy (IBIL) bring together advanced performers and a distinguished faculty for master classes, chamber coachings, concerts, lectures, and major performances. See “Summer Programs” at www.longy.edu for more information.

Longy School of Music  www.longy.edu
Modern American Music (MAM) is an advanced program in the performance of 20th- and 21st-century African-American and European-American art music. The department was founded in 1996 to provide musicians with the necessary skills to flourish in an increasingly demanding and competitive profession. More than ever before, advanced improvisational skills, high technical proficiency, and an understanding of contemporary and traditional repertoire are required of both jazz and classical musicians.

The program is the first performance degree of its kind in the United States, offering graduate students a major concentration that includes both African- and European-American music. While most conservatories separate the two disciplines, the MAM department seeks to embrace both traditions in all their richness and variety. Nevertheless, incoming students need not have extensive experience in both areas. Rather, they should exhibit considerable expertise in one tradition and express a strong desire to explore the other. During the two-year course of study, students learn about both the jazz and classical traditions in private lessons, performances ensembles, and a variety of relevant courses. Individual instruction focuses on both written and improvised works with one of the two major American traditions emphasized, depending on each student's greatest need. In most cases, one year of private instruction is devoted to jazz improvisation and performance, and one year to modern American classical music. Students also gain ensemble experience in both idioms, with classical musicians participating in straight-ahead or avant-garde jazz ensembles, and jazz musicians performing contemporary classical chamber works.

Core courses examine theoretical, historical, analytical, and aesthetic issues in contemporary American music. A two-year survey of repertory contextualizes European modernism and African-American music in the 20th century, and reveals through analysis the expanded concepts of tonality and form that underlie works from both traditions. Attention is paid not only to the scores of composers such as Duke Ellington and Gil Evans and to the performances of great artists such as Art Tatum and John Coltrane, but also to the parallel repertories of art music in the European-American tradition, including the music of Ives, Copland, Carter, and Cage.

The MAM jazz faculty comprises some of the finest teachers and performers in the Boston area. Likewise, the classical faculty, drawn from Longy's classical performance departments, boasts an array of active performers in the contemporary music scene.
Each year, MAM students perform a variety of solo and ensemble works in both traditional and unconventional settings. Instrumentalists perform primarily in the department’s small ensembles (chamber groups, traditional jazz ensembles, avant-garde ensembles) and the Modern American Music Repertory Ensemble. Pianists play with small groups and singers and focus on the full range of recent American music. Students may also participate in Longy’s other performance organizations, including the Longy Chamber Orchestra and the new-music ensemble Longitude.

OPERA PERFORMANCE

Donna Roll, Chair
Programs: Master of Music Degree
Graduate Performance Diploma

Opera at Longy is a training company of graduate-level singing actors. Each academic year centers on at least one staged work with orchestra from the standard repertory, in addition to evenings of one-act operas and imaginative scenes programs. Opera at Longy has produced several American and Boston-area premieres and provides opportunities for singers to work with internationally recognized guest artists in workshop performances and recording projects. Additionally, opera students perform regularly in oratorio and concert opera productions with orchestras throughout New England. Students’ individual artistic and professional progress is carefully nurtured within an environment of high standards and thorough professionalism.

Weekly voice lessons and private coachings concentrate on technique, complete roles, and preparation of audition repertory. Full productions and scenes are prepared in the Opera Studio, while Aria/Monologue classes hone individual performance skills in both sung and spoken drama. Additional departmental requirements in diction, acting, and the history of opera reinforce this emphasis on careful preparation and frequent performance. For experienced singers in the Graduate Performance Diploma program, these courses provide the training generally necessary for professional success on the operatic stage. For Master of Music candidates, the core studies in opera are complemented by additional training in interpretation and musicianship that ensure that students emerge as secure, well-rounded performers.

The Organ Program at Longy, administered through the Early Music Department, embraces the full range of organ repertoire from the Middle Ages to today. Organ students focus intensively on repertoire, style, performance practice, and pedagogy and develop profiles as versatile performers through coursework in figured bass, conducting, and related courses. Undergraduates benefit from a strong complement of musicianship and harmony courses, while Master of Music candidates work to become broadly-educated, advanced musicians through study of history, theory, Eurhythmics, and improvisation.

Longy organ students have practice and performance access to the Frobenius mechanical-action organ, built in 1972, with three manuals and forty stops, located at neighboring First Church in Cambridge. Most Longy organ students work professionally as church musicians in the Boston area and have access to additional instruments elsewhere.

At the core of the program in piano performance is private studio instruction. Here, piano majors, working closely with a distinguished faculty linked to a deep and rich pedagogical heritage, study the major masterpieces of the repertoire along with new music of contemporary masters. Coursework in piano literature, sight-reading, accompanying, chamber music, and pedagogy requires active participation and depth and breadth of consideration. Each year, master classes with luminaries such as Leon Fleisher, Richard Goode, Robert Levin, Menahem Pressler, Christopher Elton, and Russell Sherman provide additional opportunities for expert and inspired coaching. Electives in analysis, chamber and vocal repertory, chamber coaching, and continuo playing allow degree and diploma candidates to broaden their experience.

Solo recitals, formal departmental concerts, weekly performance hours, and collaborations with singers, instrumentalists, and composers provide an unusually rich and diverse array of performance opportunities.

The string curriculum at Longy explores repertoire, performance practice, and pedagogical and theoretical issues, all taught by a faculty committed to enlarging the scope of each student’s technical facility and artistic insight. While studio lessons address the fundamental aesthetic and professional goals of each student, the department seminar offers master classes, lectures, and workshops with faculty and distinguished visiting artist teachers; recent notable guests of the string department have included Colin Carr, Matt Haimovitz, Ida Haendel, Simon Fischer, and Mimi Zweig.

At Longy and throughout the Boston area, Longy string students have opportunities to perform as orchestral players, soloists, and ensemble musicians. Recently, string students have been featured in eclectic and vibrant venues including the Regattabar at the Charles Hotel, where they performed with the Pacifica Quartet, and at the Lily Pad, an art gallery/performance space in nearby Inman Square. Numerous freelance opportunities abound for students to perform with orchestras throughout New England.

Longy’s program in vocal performance offers students thorough technical training and a sophisticated approach to song repertory and interpretation. At the heart of the program are frequent performances in a range of settings, from class and studio recitals to formal solo and chamber concerts. In addition to this strong core curriculum, students explore their particular musical interests with members of the Voice and Collaborative Piano faculties, whose specialties include German lieder, 20th-century song, French mélodie, vocal chamber music, oratorio, ornamentation, opera, and musical theater.

Alongside weekly studio lessons, departmental performance classes hone skills in the dramatic presentation of art songs, collaborative music-making with accompanists, and text interpretation. Core courses in art song repertory, diction, and vocal chamber ensembles all incorporate extensive workshop performances and final concerts, while pedagogy classes give students the opportunity to deepen their knowledge base and teaching skills.

WOODWINDS AND BRASS PERFORMANCE

Karyl Ryczek, Chair of Instrumental Studies
Programs: Artist Diploma
- Master of Music Degree
- Master of Music Degree with Emphasis in Historical Performance
- Graduate Performance Diploma
- Undergraduate Diploma

Longy’s program in wind and brass performance seeks to foster the versatility and breadth that will prepare its students for full professional lives as soloists, orchestral players, teachers, and chamber musicians. Performance classes and seminars focus on orchestral excerpts, practice techniques, breathing, and ensemble literature. Mock auditions prepare students for competitions, orchestral and chamber auditions, and entry into professional performing organizations. Required and elective courses in orchestral studies, pedagogy, symphonic literature, chamber music literature, and techniques of chamber coaching provide a practical yet artistic focus to addressing these crucial areas.

Longy’s carefully balanced wind student population ensures that each player performs frequently and in several different settings each semester. Each student is a member of the Longy Chamber Orchestra and also participates in coached chamber ensembles. Performance hours held throughout the semester provide a forum for students to perform recently mastered works, while elective ensembles focus on new music, improvisation, and jazz, allowing students to explore or specialize in areas of personal interest.

COURSES OF INSTRUCTION

GENERAL INFORMATION

The following is a list of courses currently offered in the Conservatory at Longy School of Music. Courses run annually, for either one or two semesters per year, unless otherwise stated. In October and March, the Academic Affairs Office publishes a list of the next semester’s course offerings with updated information on meeting times and instructors. The instructors listed below are projected to be teaching in 2010–2011 and are subject to change. The school reserves the right to cancel classes for enrollment or other reasons.

Most classes are offered for one or two credits. Typically, one-credit classes meet 75–90 minutes per week, and two-credit classes meet for 120–180 minutes per week, with some exceptions. All credit amounts listed below are given per semester. The credit totals found in the degree and diploma program tables on pages 21–43 should be divided by the number of semesters required. For example 10 credits of Individual Instruction for a Master’s program = 4 semesters of Individual Instruction, 2.5 credits per semester.

Courses at the 100–400 levels are generally taken by undergraduates, while courses at the 500–700 levels are generally taken by graduates.

In addition to registering for classes each semester, students must register for Promotional Juries or Required Recitals in the appropriate semester.
PRIVATE STUDIO INSTRUCTION

Full-time degree and diploma students (with the exception of those in the Dalcroze Eurhythmics and Opera departments) register for fifteen hours of private lessons per semester (graduate: 2.5 credits; undergraduate: 3.5 credits). Opera students divide their lesson credits (3 per semester) between a vocal instructor (Dramatic Coaching for 2 credits) and a coach (Musical Coaching for 1 credit). Dalcroze students may use up to two elective credits for private lessons; see page 27.

Words and Music: Analysis of Song
Course: TH526 (2 credits)
Instructor: Brust

Students learn to free themselves from the written page and gain confidence in creating and developing their own musical ideas in ensemble with other players, through active listening to harmonic, rhythmic, and melodic events. Improvisational techniques are applied to the study of repertoire, so that an improvised “reduction” can inform understanding of structure and lead to greater freedom in performance. EARLY MUSIC (continued)

Medieval Masters of the Italian Trecento

Course: EM503 (2 credits)
Instructor: Monahan

Italy in the 14th century was divided into a collection of powerful city-states and republics, and from all the wealth and ferment arose a staggering amount of incomparable art, architecture, painting, literature, and music. This class will focus primarily on the secular song forms, the balata, madrigals, and caccia, penned by three of the greatest composers from the era. Jacopo da Bologna is representative of the first generation of these composers, and every one of his surviving 34 compositions is a jewel in its own right. He worked both in the courts in Milan and Verona. The most renowned composer of the second half of the century is Francesco Landini (1325-1397), whose music is filled with heart-breakingly beautiful melodies and sonorities. And finally, Johannes Ciconia (1370-1412), a northerner born in Belgium, found favor as a church musician in northern Italy and brought a magnificent synthesis of style to the end of the compositional era. The class will study both the compositional styles and the performance practice issues of the era while preparing a full concert of music by these three composers. Open to singers and bowed and plucked string players. Cross-registration welcome by audition. Fall semester only.

A Florentine Chansonnier

Course: EM505 (1 credit)
Instructor: Hershey

This course will focus on an exquisite 15th-century songbook from Florence, Italy, with the library call number ‘MS Banco Rari 229.’ The collection presents pieces from all over Europe, both texted and untexted, by Busnois, Isaac, Martinin, and many other famous Franco-Flemish composers whose works were well-known at the court of Lorenzo the Magnificent in Florence. This class is open to singers and instrumentalists interested in exploring this repertoire and the many performance practice issues involved in bringing the music to life, such as use of instruments and voices and the setting of texts. Fall semester only.

Baroque Performance Practice for Woodwinds

Course: EM507 (1 credit)
Instructor: Lion

Bring baroque music to life with tools described by writers from the period! Phrasing, articulation, tempo, ornamentation, expression, and rhetoric will be explored as relevant to the pieces that we will learn. The repertory will be determined by the makeup of the class and will include baroque sonatas and trio sonatas, concerti, and other chamber music. The class will include reading, discussions, master classes, and hands-on explorations of baroque pieces by Bach, Corelli, Handel, Couperin, Telemann, and their earlier and later contemporaries. Some music will be assigned, and some will draw on the repertory that students are learning for their lessons as approved by the studio teacher. Open to modern and early woodwind players who have baroque music in their standard repertory. Satisfies the Music History distribution requirement. Fall semester only.

Veglie di Siena

Course: EM522 (2 credits)
Instructors: Monahan/Fitch/Hershey

This hilarious renaissance musical comedy is Italian Commedia del Arte at its best, and with an unusual twist! Girolamo Bargigli’s Dialogo de Giano serves as the literary model drawing from renaissance parlor games. With the “Prince” serving as the master of ceremonies, the singers do a series of amusing and witty imitations of the foreigners in Italy. The imitations are staged and performed by soloists, and after each performance, there is an applause (a commenting madrigal sung by the group of players). The second half of the work represents moods in music, using large and densely written madrigals which serve as a beautiful and very skillful thematic contrast to the first half. The festivities are brought to a rousing finish with compliments paid to the Prince and all the participants! The comedy will be semi-staged with the opportunity to learn and incorporate renaissance gesture. The ensemble will prepare a full performance for the end of the semester, and preparation will take place in coachings twice per week. Open to 12-18 singers (SSAATTB) and gambas, lutes, wind instruments, and keyboard. Spring semester only.
Improvisation to Performance: Historical Models

Course: EM523 (1 credit)
Instructors: Maiben/Freundlich

Much of our understanding of historical improvisation in the 16th through the 18th centuries comes from the compositions that embody and extend the improvisation practices that are described in manuals and treatises of the period. In this repertory-based practicum, the focus will be on studying historical models analytically for performance, while practicing and honing improvisation skills based on those historical models. We will be on the lookout for distinctive markers of style in each repertory encountered. Music studied will include compositions and improvisation on grounds, compositions and improvisation based on the practice of divisions, and composed and improvised preludes. Part practicum and part master class, this course will involve students in learning, creating, and performing both notated and extempore music and will culminate in a class performance at semester's end. Open to singers and instrumentalists. Satisfies the Improvisation distribution requirement. Spring semester only.

Music from the Papal Courts of Rome

Course: EM524 (2 credits)
Instructors: Monahan/Fitch

In the Italian capital, the location of Vatican City, the Pope was traditionally a strong patron of the arts, importing Northern musicians, initiating dedicated choirs at the Sistine Chapel, and funding countless secular musical entertainments and adornments of sacred worship. The delle Rovere, Medici, Barberini, and Pamphili families produced many popes who sponsored 15th- to 18th-century musicians such as Giovanni Luppi, Stefano Landi, Luca Marenzio, Michelangelo and Luigi Rossi, Virgilio Mazzocchi, the Scarlattis, and Georg Friderich Handel. This class will dip into music from this period, exploring the finest music money from the papal coffers could buy in the Renaissance and Baroque eras. A general survey will provide context for the intensive work of preparing a full concert program drawn from this literature, both vocal and instrumental. Spring semester only.

Multi-Flute Ensemble with Baroque Component

Course: EM527 (1 credit)
Instructors: Lion

This ensemble will explore the rich repertory of trios and quartets for multiple flutes, concentrating on baroque repertory and applying principals of baroque performance practice to the pieces as we learn them. Part of the repertory will be played on period flutes. No knowledge of baroque flute fingerings is required; we will learn as we go. Two to three baroque flutes will be available for student use. Satisfies 1 Chamber Ensemble credit. Spring semester only.

TOPICS COURSES

Two Topics in Performance Practice courses are offered each year, focusing on the intersection of performance and scholarship. New areas of focus are developed each year. The following courses will be offered in the 2010–2011 academic year.

Topics in Performance Practice: Rhetoric

Course: EM541 (1 credit)
Instructors: Fitch/Hammer

Rhetoric, the art of persuasion, was a key concept in the musical language of the 17th and 18th centuries. Its roots are found in antiquity, but all of us still use it today, consciously or unconsciously. This class explores the theory and practice of rhetorical performance in the Baroque period and provides practical skills in performing expressively and effectively for an audience. Primary and secondary source materials as well as scores will be studied. Satisfies the Music History distribution requirement. Fall semester only.
Topics in Performance Practice: Crucial Writings
Course: EM551 (1 credit)
Instructor: Fitch

A survey of important primary sources (such as the letters or comments of composers or firsthand accounts of performances), this course will focus each week on a different primary source, examining what it can tell modern performers. The class will explore the relationship between performer and composer through the lens of primary sources beyond the score. Themes of performance conventions, improvisation, and embellishment are central to the readings. Students will challenge the notion that there is a “common practice” of performance appropriate to every period and every style. They will sharpen their skills of reading and develop new ideas about their work as performing musicians. Satisfies the Music History distribution requirement. Spring semester only.

Open to singers. Fall semester only.

A Mind/Body Approach to Performance Preparation

Course: MB434 (1 credit)
Instructor: Benoit

The mind-body connection is fundamental for musicians. Like athletes, our performances are greatly impacted by the health of our bodies and the focus of our minds. Musicians tend to concentrate primarily on musical preparation—neglecting the powerful mental and physical aspects of performance. Beyond practicing and traditional musical preparation, there are many ideas, skills, and techniques that can enhance performance and promote general wellness. This course is designed to teach performers how to incorporate these mind-body skills into their preparation. Through lectures, experiential exercises, and journal writing, participants explore ways to gain confidence, improve concentration, reduce stress, and develop self-esteem. Basic stress-management techniques are covered, including breath work, mindfulness meditation, progressive relaxation, visualization, time management, and dealing with negative self-talk. We will examine the impact of diet, exercise, and sleep on the psyche. In addition, we will look at depression and some of the unhealthy coping strategies such as substance abuse and eating disorders. Offered Fall and Spring semesters.

Yoga for Musicians

In this course, participants will be introduced to basic principles and practice of yoga as they relate to musicians’ health. The course will provide didactic information, and participants will learn through journaling and experiential exercises. Offered Fall and Spring semesters.

The Future of Classical Music
Course: HI520 (1 credit)
Instructor: Jackson

With serialism and minimalism each having run their course, contemporary musical language now seems more fragmented than ever, while our most esteemed artists appear unable to resist the allure of a crossover CD. Indeed, we might well ask what role classical music now plays in a media-saturated society where art grapples daily with commerce. In order to discuss where classical music is headed, though, we should ask two preliminary questions: where does classical music currently stand, and how did we arrive at this point? Tracing its trajectory from 1900 to the present, our inquiries will cover not only the music itself, but also the philosophical and aesthetic forces that shape it and its audiences. Reading from pertinent sources, hearing a variety of musical examples, and meeting shapers of the new music, we will share reflections through class discussion and short critical essays. Fall semester only.

Music of the Harlem Renaissance

Listening for Musicians
Course: HI541 (1 credit)
Instructor: Marchand

Musicians, whether they be conductors, composers, or performers, can take for granted that “listening” to music is an experience that is second nature. Yet most music majors struggle with listening exams and have no easy time trying to identify musical and/or historical characteristics. This course will help you engage with music as a unique aural art, while enhancing the breadth of your knowledge of musical repertoire. In addition to practice in “deep listening,” we will investigate philosophical, scientific, and psychological studies in music perception and aesthetics. Spring semester only.

FINANCIAL AID INFORMATION
Longy School of Music has several forms of financial assistance available to students. SOURCES OF ASSISTANCE INCLUDE:
INSTITUTIONAL Longy Scholarship, Presidential Scholarship, Named Scholarship, Sphinx Scholarship, Assistantship
FEDERAL–TITLE IV Pell Grant, Academic Competitiveness Grant (ACG), Stafford Loan, GradPLUS Loan and Parent Loan for Undergraduate Student (PLUS)
STATE MassGrant, Mass No-Interest-Loan, Gilbert Grant
PRIVATE LOANS Students who are eligible to apply for federal aid must do so prior to using private education loans. Longy does not provide a preferred lender list and private education loans are considered last resort financing.

To be eligible for the full range of financial aid available, students must apply for financial aid each year and meet Satisfactory Academic Progress (see the “Academic Policies” section) to retain institutional as well as federal and state funds.

Students interested in outside scholarships should apply at least a year before the academic year in which they intend to use the funds. Students are encouraged to do online scholarship searches for outside funding. Check with your high school counselor and financial aid office if you have questions about the legitimacy of a website. Outside scholarship applications should be made by the posted deadline date. Financial plans should be made well in advance of Longy’s payment deadlines.
HOW TO APPLY FOR FINANCIAL AID

1. Prospective students interested in Longy Scholarship and Financial Aid Application must complete the Longy Scholarship and Financial Aid Application included in the Admissions packet. Returning Longy Scholarship recipients will be provided with a “Longy Scholarship Renewal Application.” Renewal applications must be completed by the last Friday in February prior to the next academic year for full consideration.

2. Students interested in federal financial aid must complete the FAFSA. Those who can apply are U.S. citizens, permanent residents with an ARN (I-551), and “eligible” noncitizens. An “eligible” noncitizen is a conditional permanent resident (I-551C) or an I-94 holder from the Department of Homeland Security with any one of the following designations: “Refugee,” “Asylum Granted,” “Parolee” (I-94 confirms holder was paroled for a minimum of one year and status has not expired). “Victim of Human Trafficking,” T Visa (T-1, T-2, T-3, etc.), or “Cuban-Haitian Entrant.” Complete the FAFSA online at www.fafsa.ed.gov. Longy’s school code is 021430. Returning students are asked to meet the priority date, which is the last Friday in February preceding the start of the academic year.

3. Written notification of scholarship awards and financial aid eligibility will be mailed to incoming and continuing students.

4. Students selected for verification must submit the verification form and a signed copy of this year’s federal tax returns, including all schedules and W-2 forms. Dependent undergraduate students must also submit a signed copy of their parents’ federal tax returns for the current year, including all schedules and W-2 forms. Non-filers will be asked to complete the verification form and provide all W-2 forms and documentation of their unearned income. Once verification is completed, the student will be awarded.

5. A student designates how much of the financial aid he or she wishes to receive by returning one signed copy of the award letter to the Office of Student Financial Assistance. Grant/scholarship funds are then posted to the student’s account. Loan funds will be posted upon disbursement. Students are responsible for completing online entrance counseling and the Master Promissory Note at StudentLoans.gov for funds to disburse.

6. Financial aid and scholarships will be credited to the student’s account at the beginning of the term or as funds are received. All proceeds received by the school are disbursed within three business days per the rules of the U.S. Department of Education (USDE). If there is a credit on the student’s account after the bill has been paid, the Business Office will notify the student of the refund check. Refund checks are generally issued on a weekly basis or no later than 10 days after disbursement. Students who do not pick up their refund check within 10 days will be notified one last time before refund checks are returned to the USDE.

7. Federal Title IV and Commonwealth of Massachusetts’ student aid programs are administered in accordance with applicable regulations concerning eligibility, awards, and disbursement. Students with unresolved loan defaults or drug convictions while receiving federal aid are not eligible for additional financial aid.

8. Financial aid and scholarship recipients must re-apply for aid each year.

FEDERAL STUDENT AID PROGRAMS — TITLE IV FUNDS

Pell Grants
This Title IV federal program provides grants to U.S. Citizens, Permanent Residents, and special categories of “eligible” noncitizens determined by the federal government who have not yet completed an undergraduate program. Applicants must complete the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA). Pell Grant amounts are based upon the expected family contribution (EFC), as determined by the FAFSA, and range from $400-$5,350.

Academic Competitiveness Grant (ACG)
To qualify for an ACG grant, a student must be Pell eligible and meet the “rigorous secondary school program of study” requirement set forth by the USDE. The ACG Grant provides a grant for the first two years of the Undergraduate Diploma program. The ACG Grant has a set value of $700 for the first year and $1,300 for the second year. To receive ACG for a second year, first year recipients must maintain a 3.0 GPA on a 4.0 scale and continue to be Pell Grant eligible. Final transcripts, AP scores, and/or IB verification are required.
Direct Loans
The William D. Ford Federal Direct Loan Program (Direct Loans) provides students and parents with a number of federal education loans to help students finance their education. Direct Loans are federal Title IV low-interest, long term loans made to eligible students who complete the FAFSA; the funds come from the U.S. Department of Education (USDE). Students must be enrolled at least half time, not be in default of any Title IV student loans, and satisfy other federal Title IV eligibility guidelines such as Satisfactory Academic Progress, described in the "Academic Policies" section.

Direct Stafford Loans
The annual loan limits for Stafford loans are based on academic levels as shown in the table below.

Enrollment Eligibility for Title IV Loans
For Stafford and PLUS loans, students must be enrolled at least half-time. Students who drop below half-time or register for Continuation Status must schedule an appointment to complete an exit interview. Dropping below half-time will initiate the six-month grace period that precedes repayment of the Stafford loans.

The definition of half-time for Longy’s programs, for financial aid purposes, is as follows:

For the Pell Grant, a student’s EFC and enrollment level determine award eligibility. The enrollment level is defined as follows:

Direct PLUS Loans
Parents can borrow a Direct PLUS Loan to help pay a dependent student's educational expenses up to the annual cost of attendance minus other estimated financial assistance, if the dependent student is enrolled at least half-time in an eligible program and maintaining Satisfactory Academic Progress, as described in the “Academic Policies” section. To apply, complete the FAFSA to determine the financial aid eligibility and then contact the Office of Student Financial Assistance. Parents must go online to www.StudentLoans.gov to complete the Master Promissory Note. Parents will be required to pass a credit check and be approved for the PLUS loan. If denied, a parent might still be able to receive the Direct PLUS loan with a co-signer, who agrees to endorse the loan and is able to pass the credit check. An endorser promises to repay the loan if the parents fail to do so. See the chart below for current interest rates.

GradPLUS Loans
Graduate and professional degree students are eligible to borrow under the PLUS Loan Program up to their annual cost of attendance minus other estimated financial assistance. Requirements include a determination that the applicant does not have an adverse credit history. Students also must have applied for their maximum annual loan under the Federal Stafford Loan Program before applying for a Graduate/Professional PLUS loan. Entrance counseling is required prior to disbursement. See the chart below for current interest rates.

INTEREST RATES — The interest rate is set each year on July 1 by the US Department of Education (USDE). The subsidized Stafford loan does not accrue interest while the student is enrolled at least half-time. Interest accrues on the unsubsidized Stafford and PLUS loans upon disbursement.

Entrance and Exit Counseling

Students must complete entrance counseling online at www.StudentLoans.gov. Entrance counseling will be reviewed again in a group session during New Student Orientation. Loans will be put on hold until entrance counseling is completed.

Upon graduation or a student’s decision to reduce enrollment to less than half time status, exit counseling must be completed with the Director of Student Financial Assistance. Exit counseling is held in a group session at the end of each semester, and the following is reviewed: detailed information about payment plans, debt management strategies, pre-payment options, terms and conditions of forgiveness programs and forbearance, consequences of default, effects of consolidation, tax benefits, and availability of the National Student Loan Data System (NSLDS). Students are asked to attend the session and to make special arrangements if they have a scheduling conflict. Transcripts and possibly diplomas are withheld until this requirement is met.

Repayment

Repayment of the loan begins six months after graduation or after the borrower ceases to be enrolled at least half-time. The following repayment options are available:

Standard: Equal Monthly payments for 10 years.

Graduated Repayment: A multi-tiered repayment plan for up to 10 years which allows lower payments (as low as interest only) for up to 4 years. Later payments increase so that the loan is paid off within 10 years, resulting in more interest being paid over the life of the loan.

Extended and Extended Graduated Repayment: Up to 25 years. Payment will be approximately the same each year (Extended Repayment) or will start out lower and increase over time (Extended Graduated Repayment). This plan is available to borrowers with more than $30,000 in student loans whose oldest loan originated after October 7, 1998. More interest is paid over the life of the loan.

Income Sensitive (ICR): A monthly payment is chosen of between 4% and 25% of one’s monthly gross income for up to five years with 10 equal payments for a total repayment term of up to 15 years. Extending the payment period increases the interest over the life of the loan.

Income-Based Repayment (IBR): Income Based Repayment is a new repayment plan for the major types of federal loans made to students. Under IBR, the required monthly payment is capped at an amount that is intended to be affordable based on income and family size. A borrower is eligible for IBR if the monthly repayment amount under IBR will be less than the monthly amount calculated under a 10-year standard repayment plan. If a borrower repays under the IBR plan for 25 years and meets other requirements, the remaining balance of the loan(s) will be cancelled. Additionally, if the borrower works in public service and has reduced loan payments through IBR, the remaining balance after 10 years in a public service job could be cancelled. For more important information about IBR, go to www.studentaid.ed.gov/repaymentplans.

Postponing Repayment

If you have trouble making your education loan payments, contact immediately the organization that services your loan. You might qualify for a deferment, forbearance, or other form of payment relief. It’s important to take action before you are charged late fees. For Direct and FFEL Stafford Loans, contact your loan servicer. If you do not know who your servicer is, you can look it up in the U.S. Department of Education’s National Student Loan Data System at www.nslds.ed.gov.

Public Service Loan Forgiveness

The Public Service Loan Forgiveness Program was created to encourage individuals to enter and continue to work full-time in public service jobs. Under this program, you may qualify for forgiveness of the remaining balance due on your eligible federal student loans after you have made 120 payments on loans under certain repayment plans while... employed full time by certain public service employers. Non-Defaulted loans made under Direct Loan are eligible for loan forgiveness. The Direct Loan Program includes the following types of loans: Federal Direct Stafford Loans (Direct Subsidized Loans), Federal Direct Unsubsidized Stafford Loans (Direct Unsubsidized Loans), Federal Direct PLUS Loans (Direct PLUS Loans) - for parents and graduate or professional students, Federal Direct Consolidation Loans (Direct Consolidation Loans).

Although loan forgiveness under this program is available only for loans made and repaid under the Direct Loan Program, loans made under other federal student loan programs may qualify for forgiveness if they are consolidated into a Direct Consolidation Loan. Therefore, only payments made on the Direct Consolidation Loan will count toward the required 120 monthly payments.

What types of public service jobs will qualify a borrower for loan forgiveness under this program? The borrower must be employed full time (in any position) by a public service organization, or must be serving in a full-time AmeriCorps or Peace Corps position. For purposes of the Public Service Loan Forgiveness Program, the term “public service organization” means –

A federal, state, local, or Tribal government organization, agency, or entity (includes most public schools, colleges and universities); a public child or family service agency; a non-profit organization under section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code that is exempt from taxation under section 501(a) of the Internal Revenue Code (includes most not-for-profit private schools, colleges, and universities); a Tribal college or university. Or, a private organization that is not a for-profit business, a labor union, a partisan political organization, or an organization engaged in religious activities (unless the qualifying activities are unrelated to religious instruction, worship services, or any form of proselytizing) and that provides the following public services – emergency management; military service; public safety; law enforcement; public interest law services; early childhood education (including licensed or regulated health care, Head Start, and state-funded pre-kindergarten); public service for individuals with disabilities and the elderly; public health (including nurses, nurse practitioners, nurses in a clinical setting, and full-time professionals engaged in health care practioner occupations and health care support occupations); public education; public library services; and school library or other school-based services.

NOTE: To qualify for forgiveness of a parent PLUS loan the parent borrower, not the student on whose behalf the loan was obtained, must be employed by a public service organization.

Rights and Responsibilities of Students Receiving Federal Funds

- Students have the right to receive full information about the financial aid programs available, how to apply for aid, and the process by which aid is awarded.
- Students have the right to information about costs of attendance, the tuition refund policy, academic programs, faculty, and the physical facilities at Longy.
- Students have the right to discuss their financial aid eligibility, award, or cancellation with the Director of Student Financial Assistance. Once loans have been disbursed, students may request a reduction or cancellation in writing no later than the 14th day after the date the loans disbursed.
- Students who borrow money have the right to know what their loan obligations are.
- Students are responsible for applying for financial aid for each academic year. FAFSA applications for returning students should be submitted by the last Friday in February for the subsequent year.
- Students are responsible for the accuracy of their application for financial aid. Misrepresentation is considered a serious infraction and may result in withdrawal of aid, repayment of funds already disbursed, permanent disqualification in the future, fine, and/or imprisonment.
FINANCIAL AID INFORMATION

Students are responsible for understanding their loan obligation(s) and for repaying their loan(s) promptly.

Students are required to make Satisfactory Academic Progress. See the “Academic Policies” section for details.

Any financial assistance received by a student must be used solely for expenses related to attendance at Longy. Law prohibits any other use of funds.

Students are responsible for meeting all deadline requirements and for submitting all documentation requested by Longy.

Students must notify the Office of Student Financial Assistance of any change of address; marital status; academic, financial, or enrollment status; or outside financial award. Changes may result in a revision of a student's financial assistance package.

Due to the Family Education Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA), a student must sign a “Release of Information” form if he or she wishes to allow a parent to have access to information specific to his or her financial aid. Forms are available in the Associate Dean’s Office.

Enrollment Verification and Loan Deferments
Students who wish to have previous student loans deferred while studying at Longy should request a Loan Deferment Form from their lender(s). Complete your portion of the form and submit it to the Assistant Registrar for the Conservatory, who will process and mail it to your lender. Deferment forms must be filled out each semester and will be processed following the Drop/Add period.

Students who need an official letter stating that they are enrolled at Longy may request an Enrollment Verification Letter from the Assistant Registrar for the Conservatory.

Withdrawal and Return of Title IV Funds
Loans and grants issued by the Department of Education (DOE) are classified by the federal government as Title IV Funds; this includes the Pell Grant, the Academic Competitiveness Grant, Stafford, and PLUS Loans. When a student ceases enrollment prior to the planned completion date, disbursed aid that is considered to be unearned financial aid must be returned to the DOE.

If a student withdraws (officially or unofficially) after the start of classes and is receiving federal financial aid, a Return of Title IV calculation determines the type and amount of aid that is earned and the amount that must be returned. The amount of Title IV aid that is earned by a student is based on the percentage of the semester which a student completes. This percentage is computed by determining the total number of days the student attended in the semester (excluding breaks that are five or more consecutive days in length) and then dividing this number by the number of days in the semester. For example, if there are 106 days in the semester and a student withdraws after attending 30 days, the percentage of Title IV funds earned is 30/106 or 28.3%. After a student has attended more than 60% of the semester, that student is considered to have earned the aid awarded for the semester.

The Associate Dean for Academic Affairs is responsible for notifying the Office of Student Financial Assistance of a student’s official withdrawal. If a student unofficially withdraws, the Associate Dean will examine the student’s situation and set a withdrawal date if circumstances such as illness, accident, or grievous personal loss warrant it. Longy will follow DOE rules for all other unofficial withdrawals, and the mid-point of the semester shall be considered the withdrawal date.

Funds returned to the Department of Education based on this calculation have no relationship to the student’s incurred institutional charges (see the “Tuition and Fees” section for details). Students planning to withdraw may visit the Office of Student Financial Assistance for further information.

A student who must return funds determined by this calculation must repay the funds to the school and/or to the Department of Education within the timeframe dictated by the DOE.
Post-withdrawal Disbursement
A post-withdrawal disbursement of Federal Title IV aid occurs when the amount of Title IV aid earned by the student is greater than the amount of the Title IV aid disbursed for the semester. A student eligible for a post-withdrawal disbursement will receive written notification. Students have the right to accept or decline, some, or all, of the post-withdrawal disbursement that is being offered. Students are given 14 days from the date of the notification to respond. Students are encouraged to seriously consider whether it is beneficial to accept a post-withdrawal disbursement. If the Title IV disbursement is the result of a Federal Direct Loan, it must be repaid under the terms of the appropriate promissory note being completed or previously completed. Also, any disbursement received from Title IV funds may reduce award eligibility for the corresponding award(s) at Longy, or another college attended during the same award year. Any opportunity to keep loan debt at a minimum should be considered.

Massachusetts State Student Aid Programs
Massachusetts student aid programs serve residents of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts who are full time in the Undergraduate Diploma program, maintain Satisfactory Academic Progress (see the “Academic Policies” section), and demonstrate financial need as determined by the state’s regulations. Awards are based on the expected family contribution as determined by the FAFSA and state funding levels.

Mass Grant
To be eligible for the Mass Grant, the FAFSA must be completed no later than May 1 prior to the start of the academic year. Mass Grant is awarded as “Estimated Mass Grant” by Longy, and the student receives notification directly from the state. Mass Grant awards are estimated until the state sends the funds to Longy. If for any reason the state reduces the amount initially awarded, the student is responsible for the remaining unpaid bill. Mass Grant awards range from $300-$1,900.

Massachusetts No Interest Loans
The Massachusetts No Interest Loan (NIL) program allows students to borrow from $1,000-$4,000 annually. Students are asked to accept the entire amount of their Direct Loans prior to using or asking for MA NIL. Promissory notes must be completed annually, and there is a separate online exit counseling prior to repayment. Massachusetts No Interest Loans cannot be rolled into a consolidation loan with Direct Loans. Payment information is available at www.ecsi.net.

Gilbert Matching Grant
Funded by the Commonwealth of Massachusetts and awarded by Longy to needy, full-time undergraduate students who are residents of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. Awards are determined annually, based on state funding levels and eligibility based on the annual FAFSA. Generally a revised award letter is sent after the school is notified of funding.

Only students in the Master of Music Degree and Undergraduate Diploma programs may be enrolled less than full time. Permission of the Associate Dean for Academic Affairs is required. Less-than-half-time students must pay a tuition charge of $1640 per credit (as of the 2010-2011 academic year). Students should expect routine increases in tuition charges from year to year.

PAYMENT OF TUITION AND FEES

The deadline for payment of fall tuition and fees is August 1. The deadline for payment of spring tuition and fees is December 15. Bills will be mailed well in advance of these dates to the billing address the student has provided to the school. Students may not use the address of Longy School of Music as their billing address. The school accepts personal checks, MasterCard, and Visa for payment of tuition and fees. Students may also make direct electronic wire transfers to the school's bank. Please see the Business Office to arrange this method of payment. Students are responsible for any applicable bank fees.

The school reserves the right to withdraw administratively any student at any time and to deny use of any and all school facilities if payment of tuition and fees is not made according to published deadlines. Outstanding balances will be referred to a collection agency. Any additional costs of collection, such as agency fees, will be the student’s responsibility.

TUITION PAYMENT PLAN

The school offers a convenient payment plan through Tuition Management Systems. Please see the Business Office for details and a brochure or visit the Tuition Management Systems website at www.afford.com. A student who is successfully maintaining a payment plan that covers the full amount owed to the school is considered in good financial standing. If the payment plan covers less than the full amount owed to the school, the balance is payable by the deadlines stated above and is subject to finance charges.

FINANCE FEE FOR LATE PAYMENTS

Failure to meet all payment deadlines through direct payment to the school’s Business Office or by written evidence of grants or loan awards will result in a monthly finance charge of 1.5% (simple interest, compounded monthly) applied to the full outstanding balance. All payments made via mail must be received on or before the end of the business day that payment is due.

FEES CHARGED TO ALL STUDENTS

Application Fee: $100. This nonrefundable fee is charged to all new applicants for admission. Longy students and alumni applying for an additional program are charged a reduced rate of $30.

Tuition Deposit: $500. A nonrefundable deposit is required to secure a new student’s place in the incoming class, payable by the date indicated on the Intent-to-Enroll Form (provided with the letter of acceptance). This deposit is credited to the student’s account.

Comprehensive Fee: $450. This nonrefundable annual fee helps defray the costs of student services and is payable by all degree and diploma students enrolled in credit-bearing activity. December graduates and new students matriculating in January are charged a pro-rated amount.
SPECIAL FEES

Late Registration Fee: $50. Charged to students registering after the published registration period.

Secondary Studio Fee: $450. Charged by the semester to students enrolling in secondary private lessons or other private work with a faculty member, not including extra primary studio instruction (see page 96) or tutorials substituting for required coursework. Students receive 8 hours of private lessons and must use one of their allotted credits.

Tutorial Fee: $650. Charged each semester to students permitted to take tutorials that substitute for required coursework. Students registering for tutorials normally receive eight hours of contact time per credit. Additional contact time will increase this fee. All such tutorials must be approved by the appropriate department chair and the Associate Dean for Academic Affairs.

Opera Surcharge: $450. Charged by the semester to students concurrently enrolled in Dramatic Coaching and Musical Coaching.

Continuation Fee: $350. Charged each semester to students intending to complete their program but not enrolled in credit-bearing activity, including Leaves of Absence, delayed recitals, or pending proficiency requirements. Students who are removed from the graduation list for unpassed proficiencies or other reasons must pay the Continuation Fee for the following semester and any subsequent semesters during which requirements remain incomplete, even if all requirements are completed before the subsequent semester begins.

Enrollment Change Processing Fee: $100. An administrative fee charged when a student withdraws from the school, begins a leave of absence, or lowers his or her enrollment level after the first day of classes. This amount is deducted from any tuition refund, which is calculated according to the policies below.

Damaged or Lost Property Fee: cost, plus $50. Students are charged in full for willful or careless damage, breakage, or loss of school property, including library materials. The documented cost of lost or damaged equipment or furnishings will be added to the responsible student’s account, plus a $50 processing fee. Failure to pay this fee may result in Disciplinary Probation, Dismissal, or criminal prosecution.

Returned Check Fee: $35.

REFUNDS

Refunds when a student withdraws from the school are processed according to the following procedures:

- Students must submit the Withdrawal/Leave of Absence form to the Associate Dean for Academic Affairs indicating intent to withdraw or take a leave of absence. All refunds will be calculated from the official withdrawal date as determined by the Associate Dean for Academic Affairs.

- The Enrollment Change Processing Fee of $100 will be deducted from all refunds, when the change occurs after the first day of classes.

- Students who officially withdraw after tuition and fees are paid, but before a semester begins, will be given a full refund of all charges.

- Any refund to a recipient of Federal or State financial aid will occur only after any required repayment of Federal or State funds according to applicable regulations. For students withdrawing before the first day of classes, no type of student financial assistance funds may be used to pay any portion of a student’s educational costs.

- A student who is considering withdrawal may wish to confer with the Office of Student Financial Assistance concerning any anticipated refund. Examples of the refund calculation used to determine eligibility of Federal funds are available from the Office of Student Financial Assistance.
Refunds are calculated as follows:

- Students receiving Federal financial aid are entitled to the percentage of those funds that corresponds to the percentage of the term for which the student was registered. This is known as the Return of Title IV Funds calculation. For more information on Return of Title IV, see page 80.

- Tuition is refunded according to the schedule below. Longy scholarship awards will be prorated according to this schedule as well.

  - Within the first two weeks: 80%
  - Within the third week: 50%
  - Within the fourth week: 25%
  - After the fourth week: 0%

The student, if necessary, will be billed separately for any unpaid institutional charges. Refunds will be processed within 30 days of approved withdrawal.

ACADEMIC POLICIES

ADVISING AND REGISTRATION
Students receive advisement from the Associate Dean for Academic Affairs and their department chair, as well as from their primary studio instructor. See the Academic Calendar for the official registration period. Before registering each semester, students meet with the Associate Dean for Academic Affairs to review their academic progress and enrollment status, as well as other details relevant to continuing and successfully completing their programs. Students are responsible for knowing and reviewing their program requirements and for seeking advice about them. Students should also consult with the Office of Student Financial Assistance and the Business Office regarding relevant financial arrangements. Official registration is complete only when the Associate Dean for Academic Affairs receives a completed registration form with all signatures and all financial obligations to the school have been resolved.

LATE REGISTRATION
Registration for new students must be completed before the first day of instruction during their initial semester. Students must arrange travel and accommodations in order to be present for New Student Orientation. Returning students must register during the official registration periods for returning students, published in the Academic Calendar. The Late Registration Fee is charged to any students not observing these deadlines.

DROP/ADD PERIOD AND COURSE WITHDRAWAL
Students may drop or add courses during the first two weeks (10 school days) of each semester, after receiving permission from instructors, as necessary, and the Associate Dean for Academic Affairs. The student’s academic record does not show courses dropped during this period. After the second week of the semester, students may not add new classes or lessons. A grade of “W” (withdrawal) is recorded for courses dropped after the second week and before the twelfth week of the semester, upon submission of the completed Course Withdrawal Form by the published deadline. Students who stop attending (or never attend) classes but do not complete the Course Withdrawal Form by the published deadline will receive whatever letter grade the instructor deems appropriate. Consult the Academic Calendar for the relevant dates.

MAJOR STUDIO ASSIGNMENT/CHANGE
Teacher assignments are made with consideration to students’ requests and to their overall artistic development. Placement in a studio is subject to the faculty member's approval and availability. Students who wish to change primary studio instructors should do so with forethought and sensitivity. Changes in studio instructors during the course of a semester are allowed only in extreme situations related to the well-being of the student or the faculty member. All requests for studio instructor changes must be approved by the department chair and the Dean of the Conservatory.
ACADEMIC POLICIES

CHANGE OF PROGRAM OR MAJOR
Students wishing to change program or major must submit a completed Application for Change of Program. Longy Scholarship awards will be reviewed by the Scholarship Committee for all students admitted to a new program. Acceptance letters for change of program applicants will include new scholarship information. Please contact the Office of Admissions for further information and to obtain the Application for Change of Program.

ENROLLMENT STATUS
Students must declare their intention to enroll on a full- or part-time basis when accepting the school’s offer of admission and financial aid (in the case of new students) or when re-applying for financial aid (in the case of returning students). Less-than-full-time enrollment must be approved by the Associate Dean for Academic Affairs and is only permitted in the Master of Music Degree and Undergraduate Diploma programs. Enrollment status is based on the following guidelines:

Full time | 12-14 |
Three-quarter time | 9-11 |

Full-time graduate programs require a minimum of four semesters of full-time enrollment. Master of Music students may complete their programs in three full-time and one three-quarter-time semesters only if appropriate and sufficient transfer or Longy summer-school credits have been properly approved and recorded by the Associate Dean for Academic Affairs. Students may not circumvent the above rules by taking their maximum or overload credits during the first three semesters.

Students who begin in the Graduate Performance Diploma program, and subsequently switch to the Master of Music program, must complete the equivalent of four full-time Master of Music semesters. One semester of Graduate Performance Diploma study is equivalent to 0.75 semester of Master of Music study. So, for example, if a student completes two semesters of Graduate Performance Diploma and switches to the Master of Music program, he/she would have completed 1.50 semesters toward the Master of Music program, and...

Longy undergraduate students cannot begin a new program. Master of Music Degree Credits

Enrollment status is based on Academic Affairs and is only permitted in the student’s final year. Less-than-full-time enrollment must be approved and recorded by the Associate Dean for Academic Affairs. Students may not circumvent the above rules by taking their summer-school credits have been properly evaluated in order to guarantee of acceptance) to finish his or her program. A student in extreme circumstances can appeal to the Associate Dean for an extension beyond the two-semester limit.

Master of Music students who have not met all proficiency requirements may opt to switch their program to Graduate Performance Diploma in order to graduate and receive a credential. This choice may be made either before or after their original graduation date.

EXTENDING ONE PROGRAM WHILE STARTING A SECOND PROGRAM

Longy undergraduates cannot begin a new Longy program (Master of Music, Graduate Performance Diploma, Artist Diploma) until all requirements for the Undergraduate Diploma, including recitals, coursework, and proficiency exams, have been completed. A student who is accepted into a second program who subsequently has to postpone completion of his/her Undergraduate Diploma will have to defer matriculation into the new program until the undergraduate requirements are completed.

Longy graduate students who have only non-credit requirements (i.e., recital or proficiency requirements) or outstanding incompletes remaining in their program may begin a second graduate program while continuing to finish the requirements of the original program. However, the two-semester limit on Continuation Status will apply to completion of the original program. Students who have credit requirements remaining in one program will not be allowed to begin a second program until those credit requirements are completed.

CONTINUATION STATUS

Students who have completed all credit-bearing requirements for their degree or diploma but who still have other requirements such as recitals, proficiency examinations, or incomplete courses outstanding must register for Continuation Status and pay the Continuation Fee each semester until graduation, according to the registration schedule published by the Academic Affairs Office. Students who do not register for Continuation Status will need to reapply and be readmitted to the school in order to resume work on their program.

Students who are placed on Continuation Status because of unpassed proficiency exams or because they delay their graduate recital will have a maximum of two semesters to complete their requirements. After that point, the student will be academically dismissed from the school and will have to reapply (with no guarantee of acceptance) to finish his or her program. A student in extreme circumstances can appeal to the Associate Dean for an extension beyond the two-semester limit.

Master of Music students who have not met all proficiency requirements may opt to switch their program to Graduate Performance Diploma in order to graduate and receive a credential. This choice may be made either before or after their original graduation date.
LENGTH OF SECOND GRADUATE PROGRAM

Longy students who have completed either the Master of Music degree or the Graduate Performance Diploma may wish to pursue the other graduate credential after completing their first program. Since there is so much overlap between the requirements of the two programs, students can normally finish the second credential in two semesters. Admission letters and financial aid awards will be made under this assumption.

If a student decides in his/her first semester in the new program that he/she wants to extend the program for one or two additional semesters, he/she must file a petition to extend to the Associate Dean. The request will be evaluated and, if granted, a revised admission and financial aid award will be issued to the student for the period of the extension. The petition to extend must be filed by the end of the Add/Drop period in the second semester of their program.

TRANSCRIPTS

Transcripts are available from the Assistant Registrar for the Conservatory for all work pursued on a credit basis. Requests must be made in writing and will be processed only when they include the student’s name, address, telephone number, years of attendance, program of study, and full address of the recipient(s). Transcripts released directly to students are noted as such. The student must pay any express delivery charges in advance. No transcripts will be provided to students who are not in good financial standing at the school.

ENROLLMENT VERIFICATION AND LOAN DEFERMENTS

Students who wish to have previous student loans deferred while studying at Longy should request a Loan Deferment form from their lender(s). Complete your portion of the form and submit it to the Assistant Registrar for the Conservatory, who will process and mail it to your lender. Deferment forms must be filled out each semester and will not be processed prior to the end of the Drop/Add period.

Students who need an official letter stating that they are enrolled at Longy may request an Enrollment Verification Letter from the Assistant Registrar for the Conservatory.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE

Students in good academic standing may request a leave of absence of one or two semesters. Such requests require completion of the Leave of Absence Form, available from the Academic Affairs Office. The student must pay the Continuation Fee (see page 84) for each semester of the leave. Students withdrawing from the program without an official leave of absence must reapply for admission. Students taking a leave of absence are not eligible for state or federal financial assistance or for state or federal loan deferments. Renewal of Longy Scholarship funds is not guaranteed to students taking leaves. Students planning to return from a leave of absence in the fall semester must reapply for Longy scholarship funds by the last Friday in February prior to their return. Students planning to return from leaves in the spring semester should contact the Office of Student Financial Assistance for the deadline.

WITHDRAWAL FROM DEGREE AND DIPLOMA PROGRAMS

GRADING

Longy School of Music observes the following grading guidelines:

A  VERY HIGH PASS: outstanding level of achievement
B  HIGH PASS: above average level of achievement
C  PASS: satisfactory achievement
D  LOW PASS: poor achievement
F  FAILURE: unacceptable achievement
FR Course failed but later retaken and passed. Not included in GPA Calculation.
P  PASS: used mainly for Promotional and Recital Permission Juries
R  REAUDITION: Used for Promotional and Recital Permission Juries (see below)
I  INCOMPLETE: by permission only
IR Student received incomplete, but later retook the course. Not included in GPA calculation.
W  WITHDRAWAL: during 3rd–11th weeks of semester only. Not included in GPA calculation.

GRADING OF JURIES

Promotional Juries

Promotional Juries are graded as follows: P (Pass), R (Re-audition), F (Fail). These grades are awarded independently of grades for semester courses, ensembles, and studio lessons and are not used in calculating the Grade Point Average.

Students who pass their Promotional Jury receive a passing grade “P” for the jury and are automatically promoted to their next year of studio study.

Students who receive an “F” (fail) grade for their Promotional Jury will be dismissed from the school, as of the end of the semester in which the jury took place.

Students deemed by the faculty to have presented an unsatisfactory (but not failing) Promotional Jury will receive a grade of “R” and will be required to re-audition. The re-audition must take place no later than the end of the exam period of the following semester.

Since the Promotional Jury is considered to be an indication of the student’s progress in his/her primary instrument, a student who receives a grade of “R” for the promotional jury will also automatically receive a grade of “I” (incomplete) for his/her primary studio lessons for that semester.

A student who receives an “R” for a promotional jury is placed on Academic Probation as of the last date of the semester in which the jury took place. The student is ineligible to receive Longy Scholarship until he/she is removed from Academic Probation.

If the re-audition is deemed by the faculty to be satisfactory, the student will receive a “P” (Pass) for the Promotional Jury and the studio teacher will replace the primary studio grade of “I” with a letter grade for the given semester. The grade of “R” for the original promotional jury remains on the transcript.
ACADEMIC POLICIES

When a re-audition of a promotional jury is passed, the student is removed from Academic Probation as of the date of the passed jury. If the re-audition takes place prior to the start of a semester, the student will be eligible for Longy Scholarship for that semester. If the re-audition takes place after the start of a semester, the student will be removed from Academic Probation as of the date of the passed jury, but will not receive Longy Scholarship until the beginning of the next semester.

After passing a re-audition of a Promotional Jury, the student should resume the original schedule of promotional juries. This may mean that a student could present two promotional juries in one academic year.

In the event a student’s re-audition is deemed by the faculty to still be unsatisfactory, or if the student fails to schedule and perform the re-audition by the deadline stated above, the student will receive an “F” (fail) grade for the jury and for the corresponding semester of studio instruction and will be dismissed from the school. The date of the dismissal will be the end of the semester in which the re-audition takes place. If the re-audition takes place between semesters, the dismissal date will be the date of the failed re-audition.

Recital Permission Juries
Recital Permission Juries are graded as follows: P (Pass), R (Re-audition), F (Fail). These grades are awarded independently of grades for semester courses, ensembles, and studio lessons and are not used in calculating the Grade Point Average.

Students who pass their Recital Permission Jury receive a passing grade “P” for the jury and are permitted to proceed to the presentation of the recital.

Students who receive an “F” (fail) grade for their Recital Permission Jury will be dismissed from the school, as of the end of the semester in which the jury took place.

Students deemed by the faculty to have presented an unsatisfactory (but not failing) Recital Permission Jury will receive a grade of “R” and will be required to re-audition. The re-audition must take place no later than the end of the exam period of the following semester. If the re-audition is not passed before May 1 of the student’s graduation year, the student will be removed from the graduation list for that year and will be subject to the provisions of Delayed Recitals (see below).

If the re-audition is deemed by the faculty to be satisfactory, the student will receive a “P” (Pass) for the Recital Jury and may proceed to the presentation of the recital. The grade of R for the original Recital Permission Jury remains on the transcript.

In the event a student’s re-audition is deemed by the faculty to still be unsatisfactory, or if the student fails to schedule and perform the re-audition by the deadline stated above, the student will receive an F (fail) grade for the jury and will be dismissed from the school. The date of the dismissal will be the end of the semester in which the re-audition takes place. If the re-audition takes place between semesters, the dismissal date will be the date of the failed re-audition.

INCOMPLETES
All coursework must be completed by the last day of the Examination Period of each semester. Students may formally petition their instructor to receive a grade of Incomplete. This grade may be recorded only when a student is unable to complete primary course requirements on time due to illness or other compelling circumstances. An Incomplete may not be given primarily to allow a student to raise his or her grade to a passing grade for the course, ensemble, or lessons in question. Incomplete work must be remedied by the end of the subsequent semester. (Spring incompletes must be remedied by the end of the subsequent fall semester.) Students may petition the instructor and the Associate Dean for Academic Affairs to extend the make-up period for the incomplete by one semester. An “F” will be recorded for courses remaining incomplete after one semester or after petitioned extensions have expired.
REPEATED COURSES
Courses may be repeated in order to satisfy specific program requirements unless explicitly indicated in the curriculum. All attempts are recorded, and all such semester grades remain on the transcript with the following exception:

RETAKING OF FAILED COURSES
Students must retake and pass any required course in which they receive a grade of F and may choose to retake failed elective courses to improve their grade. Upon passing a previously failed course, the grade of the initial attempt will be changed from “F” to “FR” (course failed and later repeated), with the comment “course retaken” indicated on the transcript. The cumulative Grade Point Average will include the new, passing grade only. No change will be made to the original failing grade if the course is failed a second time. The subsequent passing of a course failed more than once will affect the initial attempt only, as described above.

ADDITIONAL POLICIES ON UNDERGRADUATE THEORY COURSES
All Undergraduate Diploma candidates must be continuously enrolled in Longy’s written and aural theory sequences until Harmony II and Fundamentals III have been successfully completed. If a student fails or withdraws from a course in the sequence, the student is required to take a step back, retaking either the same course or the one which immediately precedes it.

For the purposes of the policies below, withdrawing from a course in the Undergraduate Theory curriculum sequences is treated exactly as is a Failing grade, except that the W grade does not affect the student’s GPA.

If a student fails any semester of Harmony or Fundamentals, or the spring semester of Rudiments, for the first time, the student must step back in the sequence and repeat the previous course in the sequence, followed by the originally failed course. Additionally, the student will be placed on Academic Warning. Once the student has passed any required remedial coursework and the originally failed course (and thus is ready to advance in the sequence), he or she is removed from Academic Warning. Academic Warnings do not appear on the student’s transcript.

While on Academic Warning, if any of the remedial coursework is failed or the originally failed course is failed again, the student is placed on Academic Probation, which carries with it the loss of Longy scholarship. The student will meet with the Associate Dean for Academic Affairs for counseling to determine an appropriate plan to advance in the sequence. Once the student has passed all required remedial work and the originally failed course (and thus is ready to advance in the sequence), he or she is removed from Academic Probation, and the Longy Scholarship is reinstated for the following semester.

If a student fails the fall semester of Rudiments that is being taken due to original placement or as the result of a step back, he or she is placed on Academic Probation, which carries with it the loss of Longy Scholarship. The student must enroll in a two credit Rudiments tutorial in the following spring semester. This tutorial will be designed to bring the student up to the level needed to successfully retry Rudiments in the following fall semester. The student will be charged for two credits of Tutorial Fee (see Special Fees on page 84).

While on Academic Probation, if any remedial course is failed or the originally failed course is failed again, the student will be dismissed from the school. This includes a student who fails the 2-credit Rudiments Tutorial described in the previous paragraph.

PLACEMENT IN RUDIMENTS OF MUSIC
Students who are not ready to start the undergraduate theory sequence (Harmony I and Fundamentals I), determined through placement tests given during New Student Orientation, will be placed into Rudiments of Music: Written Theory and/or Rudiments of Music: Aural Skills.

ACADEMIC POLICIES

Satisfactory Academic Progress

Students are expected to make satisfactory academic progress (SAP) throughout their degree or diploma studies. For a student to meet the standards of SAP, he or she must meet both qualitative and quantitative standards, as described below.

Qualitative Standard: Cumulative Grade Point Average (GPA)

To maintain satisfactory academic progress, a student's cumulative GPA must, at the conclusion of each semester, meet the minimum standards for his or her program (Undergraduate Diploma: 2.50; All Graduate Programs: 3.00).

Quantitative Standard: Percent of Attempted Credits Completed

To maintain satisfactory academic progress, a student must be making reasonable progress toward graduation within the maximum time set forth for his or her program. The maximum time residency is defined as 1.5 times the normal residency for a program. To be making reasonable progress toward completion in this time frame, a student must have earned 2/3 (67%) of his or her overall attempted credits, measured at the conclusion of each semester.

Mitigating Circumstances

Under certain mitigating circumstances, including but not limited to injury or severe illness suffered by the student, Longy may choose to disregard a given semester with respect to the student's academic progress. The student may be asked to provide external documentation, and such cases will be fully documented in the student's academic file.

Failure to Maintain Satisfactory Progress

At the end of each semester, student records are evaluated by the Associate Dean for Academic Affairs for adherence to Satisfactory Academic Progress standards. The following describes the consequences for failure to maintain satisfactory academic progress:

Academic Warning

If a student not already on Academic Warning or Probation for failure to meet SAP standards, upon review of his or her end-of-semester record, fails either of the SAP standards for the first time, he or she will be placed on Academic Warning. The student will retain his or her Longy scholarship and will retain eligibility for governmental financial aid. The student must, in the subsequent semester, raise both the GPA standard and the percentage of credits completed to the minimum SAP threshold to avoid further consequences and be removed from Academic Warning.

Academic Probation

If a student on Academic Warning for failure to meet SAP standards, upon review of his or her end-of-semester record, again fails either of the SAP standards, he or she will be placed on Academic Probation. The student will lose eligibility for Longy Scholarship and will be ineligible for governmental financial aid. The student must, in the subsequent semester, raise both the GPA standard and the percentage of credits completed to the minimum SAP threshold to avoid further consequences. If the student successfully meets the SAP standards at the end of the subsequent semester, the student will at that point be removed from Academic Probation and will regain eligibility for Longy Scholarship and governmental financial aid for the following semester.

Dismissal

If a student on Academic Probation for failure to meet SAP standards, upon review of his or her end-of-semester record, again fails either of the SAP standards, he or she will be dismissed from the school.

Appeal Process

Students have the right to appeal decisions concerning their academic progress. Such appeals are made to the Dean of the Conservatory. Decisions concerning student appeals will be reached in a timely fashion and communicated to the student by the Dean of the Conservatory.
ACADEMIC WARNINGS
Academic Warnings may be issued at the end of each semester by the Associate Dean for Academic Affairs to students who do not meet the requirements of Satisfactory Academic Progress detailed above. Warnings may also be issued at mid-semester, based on reports of inadequate progress provided to the Associate Dean for Academic Affairs by the faculty. These warnings serve to inform the student and the department chair of academic problems and suggest routes to improvement. They are not recorded on the transcript. Lack of improvement will result in review by the Conservatory Academic Council and possible further action, up to and including Academic Probation, Suspension, or Dismissal, as described below.

ACADEMIC AND DISCIPLINARY PROBATION
In reviewing student records, the Conservatory Academic Council may place a student on Probation. The Dean of the Conservatory will closely supervise the progress of such students and may recommend curtailment of some activities. Students placed on Probation become ineligible for Longy scholarship assistance.

Academic Probation will result from:
- Failure to meet the standards of Satisfactory Academic Progress, as described above
- Academic dishonesty
- Failure to meet the performance or progress requirements set by the department
- Repeated Withdrawals
- Excessive Incomplete or low grades
- An unsatisfactory Promotional Jury
- Unsatisfactory progress in the undergraduate theory curriculum, described on page 91
- Receiving a grade of “R” for a Promotional Jury (see pages 89-90)

Academic Probation is noted on the student’s official academic record and will appear on all transcripts. Students placed on Academic Probation will be informed in writing by the Associate Dean for Academic Affairs.

Disciplinary Probation will result from:
- Failure to meet any of the standards of conduct and attendance described in the sections on standards and responsibilities on pages 99-101.

Students placed on Disciplinary Probation become ineligible for Longy scholarship assistance. Students placed on Disciplinary Probation will be informed in writing by the Associate Dean for Academic Affairs.

The records of all students on Probation are reviewed by the Conservatory Academic Council at the end of each semester. Students will be informed in writing of the results of this review. If the student has not made satisfactory progress, the Council will take further action, which may include Suspension or Dismissal.

SUSPENSION
The Conservatory Academic Council has the authority to suspend students for one or two semesters for academic reasons. Suspension will result from:
- Ongoing inability to avoid Withdrawals, Incompletes, or low grades.

Suspension will be noted on the official academic record and will appear on all transcripts. Suspended students will be informed in writing by the Dean of the Conservatory.

DISMISSAL
The Conservatory Academic Council has the authority to dismiss students for academic reasons. Grounds for dismissal include:
- Unsatisfactory academic or musical progress (see pages 89-92)
- Chronic academic dishonesty or falsification of academic information
- Failure of a Promotional Jury (see pages 89-90)
- Failure of a Recital Permission Jury (see page 90)
ACADEMIC POLICIES

Furthermore, the school retains the right to cancel the registration of any student whose continued attendance is considered detrimental to the interests of the school or other students, faculty, or staff.

Dismissal is considered final and will be noted on the official academic record and all transcripts. Dismissed students will be informed in writing by the Dean of the Conservatory.

APPEAL PROCEDURE

Students wishing to contest a decision of the Conservatory Academic Council concerning Probation, Suspension, or Dismissal must initiate such an appeal in writing within one month of the written notification of the action in question. Appeals should be made to the Dean of the Conservatory.

PROFICIENCY EXAMINATIONS

Master of Music candidates must successfully demonstrate proficiency in Music History, Music Theory, and Secondary Piano in order to graduate. Candidates majoring in Piano Performance, Collaborative Piano Performance, Organ Performance, pianists majoring in Modern American Music Performance, and harpsichordists majoring in Early Music Performance are exempted from demonstrating piano proficiency.

Undergraduate Diploma candidates (except for piano majors) must successfully complete an examination in Secondary Piano in order to graduate.

Music History and Music Theory examinations are offered twice per year, at the start of the fall and spring semesters. Piano Proficiency examinations are offered three times per year, at the start of the fall and spring semesters and at the beginning of May. Students may not receive their degrees or diplomas, or participate in the annual graduation ceremony, until all proficiency requirements have been met. Descriptions of these examinations are provided to all new students the summer before matriculation and are available from the Academic Affairs Office.

Students are expected to prepare for these examinations before enrolling. Master of Music candidates must take the Music History and Music Theory examinations for diagnostic purposes during New Student Orientation. Students failing any sections of these examinations will be required to enroll in non-credit review courses. Successful completion of the review course(s) will satisfy the proficiency requirement.

A review course is also available for Master of Music students who fail the piano proficiency exam. Alternatively, Master of Music students who feel they may need more work can register for secondary piano. A surcharge is applied for secondary piano, and one elective credit per semester must be used.

Students with insufficient backgrounds in the proficiency areas may need to extend their residency and enroll in remedial instruction at additional costs.

ADDITIONAL POLICIES ON SECONDARY PIANO FOR UNDERGRADUATE DIPLOMA CANDIDATES

Undergraduate Diploma candidates must enroll in Secondary Piano lessons in their first semester and continuously thereafter, taking up to four semesters of lessons (1 credit per semester) without incurring surcharges, until the Secondary Piano proficiency examination is passed. New Undergraduate Diploma candidates wishing to attempt but not passing the Secondary Piano examination must enroll in Secondary Piano lessons in their second semester and continuously thereafter, taking up to four semesters of lessons (1 credit per semester) without incurring surcharges, until the examination is passed.

Undergraduate Diploma candidates needing lessons beyond the fourth semester must pay the Secondary Studio Fee (see page 84). The Piano Proficiency Examination is waived for Undergraduate Diploma candidates in Organ and Piano.
ADDITIONAL POLICIES ON PIANO PROFICIENCY EXAMINATIONS FOR MASTER OF MUSIC CANDIDATES
Candidates majoring in Piano Performance, Collaborative Piano Performance, Organ Performance, pianists majoring in Modern American Music Performance, and harpsichordists majoring in Early Music Performance are exempted from taking the Piano Proficiency examination.

Master of Music candidates who previously established piano proficiency during their undergraduate studies may be waived from the Piano Proficiency examination requirement. Students must submit written proof that a piano proficiency examination was passed at a prior school. Enrolling in and passing piano lessons or classes is not considered proof of piano proficiency. Written proof may include a letter from a department chair or other music executive at the prior school or an official exam result in a letter or on a transcript, indicating a piano proficiency examination has been passed, separate from piano lessons or classes. Students should submit such documentation to the Associate Dean for Academic Affairs, who will forward it to the piano examination proctor for review. Students who wish to pursue this option must submit documentation by the end of their first semester in the Master of Music program.

ADVANCED STANDING IN THEORY AND SECONDARY PIANO FOR UNDERGRADUATE DIPLOMA CANDIDATES
All Undergraduate Diploma candidates are tested in aural and written music theory at New Student Orientation. Students with strong backgrounds in theory, as indicated by these tests, may receive advanced standing in Harmony and Fundamentals of Musicianship coursework. Students are exempt from courses below the level of ability indicated by these tests and may take additional electives in the place of these credits. The total credits required for graduation are not reduced.

All Undergraduate Diploma programs require four credits of secondary piano lessons, except for piano majors. Students who pass the Secondary Piano examination before completing some or all of these credits are exempt from the remaining credits and may take additional electives in their place. The total credits required for graduation are not reduced. Students who pass the Secondary Piano examination before completing four credits of secondary piano lessons may also choose to continue lessons with no additional charge, up to the allowed four total credits of free lessons.

PERFORMANCE REQUIREMENTS
PROMOTIONAL JURIES
Promotional Juries are held during the final two weeks of every semester. With the exception of the Composition, Dalcroze, and Opera departments, students will perform a Promotional Jury after their second semester and after each subsequent full year of residency, except during semesters when they perform a full recital. A Promotional Jury may not routinely be delayed to allow a student more time to prepare; health-related or other compelling reasons must be demonstrated, and the delay must be approved by the department chair and the Dean of the Conservatory. (See pages 89-90 for the grading policy for Promotional Juries.)

ENSEMBLE PARTICIPATION
Students must fulfill all ensemble requirements detailed for their programs. All degree and diploma candidates in the String and Woodwinds and Brass departments, with the exception of Artist Diploma candidates, are expected to participate in the Longy Chamber Orchestra each semester of residency at an enrollment level of half-time or more. Any requests for exceptions to this policy must be addressed to the Dean of the Conservatory.
Recitals and Permission Juries

Candidates for the Undergraduate Diploma, Master of Music Degree, Graduate Performance Diploma, and Artist Diploma must complete the recital requirements of their programs in order to graduate. All students must pass a Recital Permission Jury no less than three weeks before performing a Required Recital. The Recital Permission Jury must be presented with all of the recital personnel, including accompanists and chamber music participants. The Permission Jury for the final required recital must be completed by May 1 of the graduation year. Majors in Composition, Dalcroze Eurhythmics, and Opera must complete final projects as detailed in their programs in lieu of recitals. (See page 90 for the grading policy for Recital Permission Juries.)

Delayed Recitals and Extra Primary Studio Lessons

A student delaying his or her final degree or diploma recital beyond the last semester of required (credit-bearing) lessons must complete the Delayed Recital Form, available in the Academic Affairs Office, indicating the approval of the primary studio instructor, department chair, and Associate Dean for Academic Affairs. The anticipated recital date must be indicated. Recitals may not routinely be delayed to allow students more time to prepare or to extend their residency at the school. Health-related or other compelling reasons must be demonstrated.

On the form, the primary studio instructor will agree to supervise the final recital without further lessons or will indicate the number of additional lessons he or she recommends the student complete in order to be ready for the recital. This number will subsequently be approved by the department chair and the Associate Dean for Academic Affairs.

Students will normally register for these as non-credit lessons, paying an additional tuition amount based on the instructor's hourly conservatory teaching rate, available on request from the Associate Dean for Academic Affairs. No grade will be given for extra, non-credit lessons. The primary studio instructor may, at his or her discretion, award a grade of Incomplete during the final semester of credit-bearing lessons in cases where the recital will be delayed. Exceptions to the non-credit rule will be made by the Dean of the Conservatory, and students enrolling in extra lessons for credit may be asked to pay a surcharge so that the total tuition paid is not less than the hourly conservatory teaching rate.

The department chair and the primary studio instructor reserve the right to call for a new Recital Permission Jury if the decision to delay the recital occurs after the initial jury. The Recital Permission Jury must be presented with all of the recital personnel, including accompanists and chamber music participants.

Elective Independent Study Projects

Students in graduate programs or upper-level undergraduates (at least third-year status) interested in carrying out independent research on a focused musical topic may pursue an Independent Study Project, with permission of their department chair and the Associate Dean for Academic Affairs. Students must register for these as non-credit lessons, paying an additional tuition amount based on the instructor's hourly conservatory teaching rate, available on request from the Associate Dean for Academic Affairs. No grade will be given for extra, non-credit lessons.
Students must register for the Independent Study Project (one credit) during the published registration period and will be charged the Secondary Studio fee. Since careful consideration of the project is required, students may not add the Independent Study Project to their schedule after the published registration period is over or during the drop-add period.

Interested students must complete the Independent Study Approval Form before registration. On the form, students will be asked for the proposed title and a brief description (at least 100 words) of the project. They must identify their advisor and secure the signatures of their advisor, department chair, and the Associate Dean for Academic Affairs. The Dean of the Conservatory will appoint a second reader (see below).

The student must submit a draft of the paper to the advisor, second reader, and Associate Dean for Academic Affairs no less than three weeks before the final presentation is scheduled. The advisor and second reader will provide comments to the student within one week of receiving the paper. The advisor will notify the Associate Dean for Academic Affairs that the draft paper provides sufficient evidence that the student is ready to proceed to the public presentation. The Dean of the Conservatory will sign the Independent Study Approval Form, authorizing the public presentation.

Public presentations must be made by the end of the thirteenth week of the semester. The paper in its final form must be re-submitted to the advisor and the Dean of the Conservatory within one week of the public presentation. The advisor will assign the final grade, consulting with the second reader as necessary.

MINOR AREAS OF STUDY FOR UNDERGRADUATE DIPLOMA CANDIDATES

Undergraduate Diploma candidates may pursue a minor in any area of study in which the Undergraduate Diploma is offered (Composition, Organ, Piano, Strings, Voice, or Woodwinds and Brass). Minors must meet the same entrance requirements as majors, auditioning for the second department as necessary. Interested students should consult with the Associate Dean for Academic Affairs and the department chair in the minor field of study. Specific course and lesson requirements will be developed by that department chair and must be approved by the Associate Dean for Academic Affairs. Minors normally consist of 20-25 credits, including 14 credits of private studio lessons. Students may use available elective credits to pursue a minor. If insufficient elective credits are available, students will be expected to pay tuition surcharges and/or extend their residency to complete the minor. One or two Secondary Studio Fees will be assessed per semester for private lessons in the minor area taken concurrently with private lessons in the major area (8 hours of minor lessons = 1 Fee, 15 hours of minor lessons = 2 Fees). Successfully completed minors will be listed on the student’s official transcript.
GRADUATION REQUIREMENTS

Students may verify the completion of all program requirements with the Dean of the Conservatory or the Associate Dean for Academic Affairs. In order to be eligible for graduation, students must

1. File an Intent-to-Graduate Form with the Associate Dean for Academic Affairs during the fall semester preceding graduation.

2. Complete their prescribed programs, with a minimum GPA of 2.50 for undergraduates or 3.0 for graduates, and with no Incomplete grades.

3. Fulfill the Minimum Residency requirement and have completed all required juries, proficiencies, and other required examinations and recitals.

4. Fulfill individual departmental graduation requirements.

5. Meet all other obligations to the school, including the return of library materials and all other school property and the payment of all outstanding fees, tuition charges, and fines.

6. Complete a financial aid exit interview, if applicable.

7. Be released from Academic or Disciplinary Probation. Students may not graduate while on Probation.

COMMENCEMENT CEREMONY PARTICIPATION, DISTINCTION GRADUATES, AND AWARDS

Longy School of Music expects that students participating in the annual Commencement Ceremony will have completed all requirements for graduation. The following are the only standing exceptions:

1. Students who have passed the Recital Permission Jury for their final, required degree or diploma recital and have their recital scheduled within one month of the ceremony.

2. Students in the Dalcroze Department who must enroll in one remaining Summer Institute.

3. Students in the Dalcroze Department who must enroll in one remaining Summer Institute.

4. The Associate Dean for Academic Affairs may allow students who have an incomplete in one or more courses to participate in the ceremony, if in his or her estimation the remaining work will be complete within one week of the ceremony. The faculty member(s) involved and the department chair will be consulted.

5. Students who have outstanding financial or library obligations to the school or who have failed to complete a financial aid exit interview, if applicable.

Exceptions Nos. 1-4: The diploma will be held until the requirements have been met. If the requirements are not met within the stated timeframe, the student will not be recognized on his or her permanent record as a graduate that spring and must enroll as a Continuation Status student for the following fall semester.

Exception No. 5: The diploma will be held indefinitely until all financial or library obligations have been met or until the financial aid exit interview has been completed; in addition, requests for official transcripts will not be processed.

Under no circumstances will students with unpassed proficiency requirements be allowed to participate in the ceremony.

Department chairs may nominate graduates to receive their degree, diploma, or certificate “with distinction” (Artist Diploma excluded). “Distinction” signifies exceptional artistic and academic achievement. The Conservatory Academic Council will approve distinction graduates at its final meeting before the Commencement Ceremony.

Roman Totenberg Award: Established in honor of former Longy Director Roman Totenberg, this award is given to a student with stellar academic and artistic achievement who embodies a deep commitment to perpetuating the art of music. The recipient will be selected by the Conservatory Academic Council and must be present at the Commencement Ceremony.

Patricia Sherman Award: Established in honor of former Longy student Patricia Sherman, this award is given to the student who, in addition to achieving a distinctive artistic and academic record, has exhibited outstanding citizenship and contributions to the community, and an exemplary attitude. The recipient will be selected by the Conservatory Academic Council and must be present at the Commencement Ceremony.

Mary Ellis Smith Prize: Established through the generosity of Longy Board of Trustees member Marilyn Ray Smith in honor of her mother, long-time piano teacher Mary Ellis Smith, this award is presented each year to a graduating pianist in recognition of outstanding achievement in piano and the art of piano pedagogy and demonstrated commitment to the transformational power of music to make a difference in the world.

Margaret Rohde Award: This award, for excellence in solfège and theoretical studies, was established in honor of Margaret Rohde, who served as a valued member of the Longy faculty for many years, instructing hundreds of aspiring musicians in the rigors of solfège and the intricacies of harmony. Ms. Rohde also lent her talents by serving as the Acting Director of Longy in 1977-78.

STANDARDS OF EXCELLENCE AND CONDUCT
Excellence in all educational and operational areas is the hallmark of Longy School of Music. Individual attention, strong student and faculty support, high standards, and an imaginative approach characterize the school’s programs and operations.

Longy students are productive members of the community, pursuing their musical education to the fullest. They approach diligently and attend punctually all activities in which they participate. They follow the school’s policies and honor the instructions of faculty members.

- Longy faculty members display thoughtfulness, professionalism, and expertise in teaching, musicianship, and, where appropriate, performance. As teachers and mentors, they direct students toward a full realization of their potential. In partnership with the administration, they provide leadership for the school.

- Longy administrative staff members display effectiveness, professionalism, and responsiveness in supporting the educational programs of the school. They maintain an environment conducive to learning and consider the overall health of the institution.

All members of the Longy community are expected to deal honestly, ethically, and respectfully with one another.

ATTENDANCE
- Regular and punctual attendance is expected at all lessons, classes, and rehearsals.
- Excused absences for reasons of illness or other compelling emergencies are granted at the discretion of individual faculty members.
- Students with excessive or unexcused absences from lessons, classes, or rehearsals may be subject to a failing grade, or, in extreme cases, academic probation or dismissal.
- Examinations and quizzes are given in classroom subjects throughout the semester at the discretion of the instructor. Final examinations are held during the final two weeks of each semester. All students must be available to take these examinations. Unexcused absence from any final examination may result in a failing grade being recorded for that course.
Students are expected to attend all scheduled private lessons, primary or secondary. Faculty members are required to make up one lesson per semester that has been missed because of a student's absence, provided that the student notified the instructor at least 24 hours in advance of the scheduled start of the lesson or, in the case of evening lessons beginning 5:00 p.m. or later, by 5:00 p.m. of the previous day. Exceptions to this deadline are made in cases of sudden hospitalization or physical accident. Other student absences are made up only at the faculty member's discretion. In cases of extended student illness, special arrangements should be made with the faculty member, in consultation with the Associate Dean for Academic Affairs.

Regarding absence due to religious beliefs, the Commonwealth of Massachusetts has enacted Chapter 375, Acts of 1975, the following addition to Chapter 151C of the General Laws.

Any student in an educational or vocational training institution other than a religious or denominational education or vocational training institution, who is unable, because of his religious beliefs, to attend classes or to participate in any examination, study, or work requirement on a particular day, shall be excused from any such examination or study or work requirement, and shall be provided with an opportunity to make up such examination, study, or work requirement which she/he may have missed because of such absence on any particular day, provided, however, that such make-up examination or work shall not create an unreasonable burden upon such school. No fees of any kind shall be charged by the institution for making available to the said student such opportunity. No adverse or prejudicial effects shall result to any student who avails him/herself of the provisions of this section.

OTHER RESPONSIBILITIES OF STUDENTS

1. All students are expected to abide by the rules and regulations of Longy School of Music. Those whose attendance, punctuality, and conduct is unsatisfactory will be subject, depending on the nature and severity of the infraction, to Warning, Probation, Suspension, or Dismissal.

2. Participation in the Longy Chamber Orchestra and other required ensembles is expected according to the requirements for the appropriate degree or diploma program. Attendance at all rehearsals and performances is required and takes precedence over all outside commitments. The Artistic Director of Large Ensembles, in consultation with the Dean of the Conservatory, will review chronic unexcused absences from a required ensemble for disciplinary action.

3. Academic dishonesty, particularly plagiarism and cheating, may result in automatic failure on the work in question and will be reviewed by the Conservatory Academic Council, which will make a recommendation for action to the Dean of the Conservatory. Depending on the nature and severity of the infraction, the student will be placed on Academic Probation or be recommended for Suspension or Dismissal (see definition of Academic Integrity, below).

4. Students whose conduct has included harassment of any sort, damage to school or personal property, or other violations of school policy will be subject to disciplinary action. Behavior detrimental to the well-being of any member of the school community and which is inconsistent with the school's expectations may be cause for Disciplinary Probation. Serious or repeated offenses will be cause for immediate Dismissal.

5. Any student who is absent from studies for more than five consecutive days is required to present medical documentation to the Associate Dean for Academic Affairs.
6. Professional training in performance and teaching often includes occasional work assignments or short-term employment outside the school. While professional work opportunities are necessary to musicians’ development, outside engagements must be approved in advance by the major teacher and, if extended in any way, the department chair and Dean of the Conservatory. International students must consult an International Student Advisor before undertaking any employment outside Longy School of Music.

7. Students are not permitted to schedule teaching, courses, or outside work during the hours reserved for required ensembles and classes.

ACADEMIC INTEGRITY

Academic integrity is critical to the school’s ability to realize its educational mission, as effective teaching and learning are dependent upon the fair and equitable assessment of student achievement.

Academic dishonesty is not only wrong from a moral and ethical standpoint, it also undermines the very process of education. It is a breach of trust which devalues the efforts of other students as well as instructors, distorts the institution’s educational standards, threatens the school’s reputation, and ultimately, calls into question the value of the degrees and diplomas it confers.

Longy School of Music expects its students to adhere to high standards of academic integrity and takes very seriously violations of these standards, regardless of whether they are committed deliberately or out of ignorance.

PLAGIARISM

Plagiarism is the appropriation of another author’s words and/or thoughts and passing them off as one’s own. In written academic exercises, textual passages quoted from other sources must be clearly identified through the use of quotation marks or indentation. All quotations, textual paraphrases, ideas, or any creative constructs taken from other sources must be acknowledged through proper citation in the form of footnotes or endnotes.

This applies regardless of the medium, whether from printed sources or the internet, whether it is a research paper or assignments for a theory class.

CHEATING

In an academic context, cheating often involves the unauthorized access to information while taking part in an evaluative academic exercise such as an examination. This can include using notes or other aids without permission, copying work from another student, or having someone else produce work on one’s behalf.

FABRICATION

Fabrication involves inventing or falsifying information in the course of an academic exercise. An example would be when a student cites a source that does not exist to back up a claim made in a research paper.

AIDING AND ABETTING ACADEMIC DISHONESTY

A person who provides someone else with unauthorized information during an examination, or who allows another person to copy his or her own work and submit it in an academic assignment — whether knowingly or through negligence — is also committing a violation of academic integrity.

INTERNATIONAL STUDENT INFORMATION

Longy’s Designated School Officials (DSOs) for international student affairs are the Director of Student Financial Assistance, the Director of Admissions and Student Services, the Assistant Director of Admissions and Student Services, and the Executive Assistant to the Dean. These advisors are available to help international students understand and comply with all applicable rules and regulations.
VISAS ACCEPTABLE FOR STUDY AT LONGY

Most international students who study at Longy will enter the United States on an F-1 visa. An F-1 student is a nonimmigrant who is pursuing a full course of study in order to achieve a specific educational or professional objective at an academic institution in the United States. Once the educational or professional objective has been attained, the F-1 student is expected by the U.S. government to return to his or her residence abroad. Holders of other visa types who wish to study at Longy should contact the Admissions Office for further information.

SEVIS AND FORM I-20

SEVIS, the Student and Exchange Visitor Information System, is a database maintained by the U.S. government that tracks international students and their dependents. Longy’s Designated School Officials are required to update a student’s SEVIS record whenever the student changes address, program of study, etc. All F-1 students must receive a Form I-20 from Longy in order to apply for the F-1 visa, apply for a change in status to F-1, or transfer their F-1 status from another school. The Form I-20 may be issued only after the following documents have been received, reviewed, and accepted by Longy:

- The completed Application for Admission, including official transcripts, letters of recommendation, and TOEFL score report.
- Certified evidence of financial support (and letter of sponsorship where applicable).
- A clear photocopy of the student’s passport. If the student has a current visa, a clear photocopy of it is also required.

INTERNATIONAL STUDENTS OUTSIDE THE U.S.

Upon receiving the completed Form I-20 from Longy, students outside the U.S. should:

1. Pay the SEVIS Fee. The U.S. Department of Homeland Security (DHS) requires proof of payment of the SEVIS fee before issuing a visa or approving any benefits of status. F-2 dependents are not required to pay the SEVIS fee. To pay the SEVIS I-901 processing fee refer to: https://www.fmjfee.com/i901fee/.

2. Make an appointment at the nearest U.S. embassy or consulate in their home country in order to apply for the F-1 visa. It is recommended that appointments be made well in advance of traveling to the U.S. Students should bring all documents relevant to their admission to Longy, including:
   - Valid passport (must be valid at least six months beyond the date you intend to remain in the U.S.)
   - Completed and signed Form I-20
   - Certified evidence of financial support (including the same financial documents used by Longy to complete the Form I-20)
   - Longy acceptance letter (and scholarship award letter where applicable)
   - Proof of English proficiency, such as a TOEFL report
   - Travel documents and other forms as specified by the local U.S. embassy

These documents should be retained and may need to be presented when traveling to the U.S. In some cases a person applying for an F-1 visa may be asked to provide evidence of intent to depart the U.S. after completion of studies.

Once a visa application and supporting materials are reviewed and approved, the student will be issued an F-1 visa. Visas can be obtained only outside the United States at a U.S. embassy or consulate. The visa allows a student to enter the U.S. when accompanied by the Form I-20 and is only valid for the purpose for which it was issued. The expiration date on the visa does not determine how long a student may stay in the U.S.; the completion date printed on the Form I-20 is the determining date.

Unlike the Form I-20, visas may expire while a student is in the U.S. However, before reentering the U.S. after any international travel, the visa must be renewed.
Citizens of Canada and Bermuda are exempt from the requirement to possess a visa to enter the U.S.; however, they are still required to pay the SEVIS fee before starting their program. Proof of SEVIS fee payment for these individuals will be verified at the U.S. port of entry before they are admitted to the United States in F-1 status.

INTERNATIONAL STUDENTS CURRENTLY IN THE U.S.
The SEVIS fee is not required from international students currently in the U.S. in valid F-1 status. The fee is not required when a student transfers to a new school or changes degree program or level within five months of completing a previous F-1 program.

Longy will provide a student coming from another U.S. school with a form to be completed by an official at the previous school so that the student’s SEVIS record can be transferred to Longy and a new I-20 issued.

FIVE-MONTH ABSENCE POLICY
The SEVIS fee must be paid by students who have studied in the U.S. in F-1 status in the past but have departed the U.S. for longer than a five-month period or changed to another immigration status, whether or not a new F-1 visa is needed.

MAINTAINING F-1 STATUS
It is extremely important for a nonimmigrant to maintain his or her status while in the United States. Failure to maintain the terms and conditions of nonimmigrant status is grounds for deportation from the United States. Maintaining status involves:

- Reporting to a Designated School Official (DSO) no later than the second week of the semester, so that the student can be registered in SEVIS.

- Reporting any change of name or address to a DSO within 10 days of the change.

- Pursuing a full course of study at the school listed on the Form I-20 during every academic session or semester except during official school breaks, or unless approved under a specific exception, in advance, by a DSO.

- Making normal progress toward completing the course of study and finishing studies before the program completion date on the Form I-20.

If poor academic performance or other academic problems result in academic suspension or a mandatory reduction in course load, immigration status will be impacted. Suspension will prevent the student from enrolling. Mandatory reduction in course load following poor academic performance will also be viewed as a failure to pursue a full course of study, unless it can be authorized under one of the reduced course load provisions.

Academic probation and suspension are not acceptable reasons for program extension. A student placed on academic probation who is not able to complete his or her program by the program completion date may not be eligible for an extension of stay, unless other "compelling academic or medical reasons" exist to support the extension request.

A student must abide by the rules requiring disclosure of information and prohibition on criminal activity. A student must abide by any special requirements, such as Special Registration requirements.

An F-1 student must not work off-campus, unless specifically authorized for Curricular Practical Training (CPT) after one year of study or Optional Practical Training (OPT) upon graduation. A student must abide by the aggregate unemployment rules while on post-completion OPT.
104 REDUCED COURSE LOAD EXCEPTIONS

The Dean of the Conservatory, in consultation with a student’s department chair and the Principal Designated School Official (PDSO), has the authority to determine whether a student is eligible for an exception to the full course of study requirement. Students must submit a written request and provide documentation if they feel they meet one of the conditions listed below. A decision about reduction of enrollment will be made after review of the student’s situation. The student is expected to return to full-time enrollment the following semester.

Exceptions to the full course of study requirement:

- Documented illness or medical condition (12 months maximum per program).
- Unfamiliarity or difficulties with U.S. teaching methods or English. This is permissible only during the first year of study.
- In their final term, students may drop below full-time. Once an international student’s I-20 has been updated to indicate final term of study, further extensions are not possible.
- As a result of improper course-level placement, the Dean of the Conservatory may approve a reduced course load. Students must resume a full course load the following term.

WORKING IN THE UNITED STATES

Qualifying international students may work on-campus. A student worker will need a social security number in order to be paid; information on how to obtain a number is available from the Academic Affairs Office and Longy’s website.

Off-campus work in music may be authorized through Curricular Practical Training and Optional Practical Training, which are described below. In extreme cases, a student may be authorized to work off-campus in a non-music-related job due to severe economic hardship; please consult the Director of Student Financial Assistance for more information.

CURRICULAR PRACTICAL TRAINING

Longy School of Music allows qualifying international students to work off-campus in approved positions through Curricular Practical Training (CPT). The United States Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS) states that CPT must be “an integral part of an established curriculum” and define it as “alternate work/study, internship, cooperative education, or any other type of required internship or practicum which is offered by sponsoring employers through cooperative agreements with the school.” Positions must, therefore, support students’ academic programs and be approved by the Academic Affairs Office. Students must provide documentation from potential employers before employment is scheduled to begin. Students must register for CPT for 0.5 credits per semester and may be asked to provide written documentation of their CPT experiences to the Dean of the Conservatory. International students enrolling at Longy directly from residency in their home country are ineligible for CPT during the first academic year.

OPTIONAL PRACTICAL TRAINING

Longy School of Music allows qualifying international students to apply for work permission, for approved positions, through Optional Practical Training (OPT). The United States Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS) defines OPT as “temporary employment for practical training directly related to the student’s major area of study.” Students should apply for OPT in their final semester. OPT is granted for a twelve-month period, and any OPT completed prior to graduation counts against the total time permitted.

To apply for OPT, students must schedule a meeting with the appropriate DSO and provide copies of all required documentation. While students are no longer enrolled at Longy during their OPT, Longy is responsible for reporting any updates and/or changes in their status to the USCIS.
REPORTING REQUIREMENTS AND MAINTAINING STATUS WHILE ON POST-COMPLETION OPT

- While on post-completion OPT, a student must continue to report changes in name or address to a DSO within 10 days of the change.

- Periods of unemployment may put a student’s F-1 status at risk. Students may not accrue an aggregate of more than 90 days of unemployment during any post-completion OPT. Each day during the OPT authorization period that the student does not have qualifying employment counts as a day of unemployment.

- SEVIS allows a 10-day exception to the counting of days while a person on OPT is between jobs.

- The student cannot be outside of the U.S. more than 120 days while on post-completion OPT. Time spent outside the United States while unemployed will count towards the 90/120 aggregate during the OPT authorization period. If a student travels while employed either during a period of leave authorized by an employer or as part of their employment, the time spent outside the United States will not count as unemployment.

- The student must report any period of unemployment to the appropriate DSO.

TYPES OF WORK THAT CONSTITUTE EMPLOYMENT WHILE ON OPT

- Regular paid employment

- Gigs and contracts — Students should maintain a list of all such employment, dates, locations, and duration; students should be prepared to provide this list to the Department of Homeland Security, upon request.

- Self-employment — Students may start a business and be self-employed. In this situation, the student must work full time and be able to prove that he or she has the proper business licenses and is actively engaged in a business related to the student’s degree program.

- Employment through an agency, working an average of at least 20 hours per week

- Volunteering or unpaid internships, working at least 20 hours per week

Students may be denied future immigration benefits that rely on valid F-1 status if DHS determines that the limitations on unemployment were exceeded. Additionally, the government may examine SEVIS data and terminate a student’s record if it fails to show the student maintained proper employment while on OPT.

F-1 DURATION OF STATUS (D/S) AND GRACE PERIODS

- An F-1 student will normally be admitted to the United States for duration of status, noted as “D/S” on both Form I-94 and the student’s Form I-20.

- An F-1 student may be admitted for a period of up to 30 days before the start of the course of study. An F-1 student who has completed a course of study will be allowed a 60-day period to prepare for departure from the United States or transfer to a different program at the same or another educational institution. No employment is permitted during the 60-day grace period.

- An F-1 student authorized by the DSO to withdraw from classes will be allowed a 15-day period for departure from the United States.

- An F-1 student who fails to maintain a full course of study or otherwise fails to maintain status is not eligible for an additional period for departure.

TRAVEL OUTSIDE THE UNITED STATES

When traveling outside the U.S., students should take with them all documents relevant to their study at Longy. Passports and visas should be valid for re-entry, and students should ensure that the DSO’s signature on page 3 of the I-20 is not older than six months. Before traveling to a country other than a student’s home country, the student must check with that country’s embassy or consulate to see if a visa is required.

PRACTICE ROOM POLICIES
Please be considerate of fellow students in the use of Longy's practice rooms. For rooms that contain instruments other than pianos (harps, harpsichords, percussion, etc.), priority access should be given to majors in those instruments. If one leaves a practice room for more than 15 minutes, it will be considered vacant; leaving personal belongings does not hold a room for later use and should never be done for security reasons.

In an effort to maximize functionality, rooms should be left as neat as possible by returning chairs and stands to where they were found.
Pianos should never be moved. Windows should be shut when leaving a room.

Edward M. Pickman Concert Hall, the Wolfinsohn Room, the Homburger Room, and Recital Room N-1 are performance spaces and are not for general practice use. Any use of these spaces must be reserved through the Concert Office.

Students are not permitted to teach private lessons in Longy practice rooms unless done specifically as a Longy course requirement.

Practice rooms in the Rey-Waldstein basement are the only ones available for student sign-out. A limit of two hours of reserved time per day applies to these rooms.

No brass or woodwind instruments are allowed in the following rooms: 7, 12, 13, 20, and 21.

Faculty teaching hours and locations are available at the Front Desk in the Zabriskie House. If there is any question regarding an unassigned room that is being used for teaching purposes, please consult the Front Desk. Unassigned rooms must be reserved by faculty for teaching and coaching purposes by 4:00 p.m. the day before they are needed. A faculty member may only ask a student to vacate a room if he or she has previously reserved it. If a room has not been reserved in advance, it is available on a first-come, first-served basis.

SCHOOL CANCELLATION POLICY
Classes and lessons may be cancelled due to serious winter weather or other emergencies. Announcements of closings will be carried on WHDH-TV (Channel 7), WCVB-TV (Channel 5), and on Longy's phone system greeting. Only one snow day per semester will be made up.

LONGY CONCERT OFFICE
The Student Guide to the Concert Office is distributed to students at the beginning of the fall semester. This guide lists the policies pertaining to Longy's performance spaces and the production, publicity, and program services available for student recitals, as well as other important concert information.

PRACTICE ROOM POLICIES
Please be considerate of fellow students in the use of Longy’s practice rooms. For rooms that contain instruments other than pianos (harps, harpsichords, percussion, etc.), priority access should be given to majors in those instruments. If one leaves a practice room for more than 15 minutes, it will be considered vacant; leaving personal belongings does not hold a room for later use and should never be done for security reasons.

In an effort to maximize functionality, rooms should be left as neat as possible by returning chairs and stands to where they were found. Pianos should never be moved. Windows should be shut when leaving a room.

Edward M. Pickman Concert Hall, the Wollinsohn Room, the Homburger Room, and Recital Room N-1 are performance spaces and are not for general practice use. Any use of these spaces must be reserved through the Concert Office.

Students are not permitted to teach private lessons in Longy practice rooms unless done specifically as a Longy course requirement.

Practice rooms in the Rey-Waldstein basement are the only ones available for student signout. A limit of two hours of reserved time per day applies to these rooms.

No brass or woodwind instruments are allowed in the following rooms: 7, 12, 13, 20, and 21.

Faculty teaching hours and locations are available at the Front Desk in the Zabriskie House. If there is any question regarding an unassigned room that is being used for teaching purposes, please consult the Front Desk. Unassigned rooms must be reserved by faculty for teaching and coaching purposes by 4:00 p.m. the day before they are needed. A faculty member may only ask a student to vacate a room if he or she has previously reserved it. If a room has not been reserved in advance, it is available on a first-come, first-served basis.

SCHOOL CANCELLATION POLICY
Classes and lessons may be cancelled due to serious winter weather or other emergencies. Announcements of closings will be carried on WHDH-TV (Channel 7), WCVB-TV (Channel 5), and on Longy’s phone system greeting. Only one snow day per semester will be made up.

LONGY CONCERT OFFICE
The Student Guide to the Concert Office is distributed to students at the beginning of the fall semester. This guide lists the policies pertaining to Longy’s performance spaces and the production, publicity, and program services available for student recitals, as well as other important concert information.
STUDENT LIFE

LIBRARY
The Bakalar Music Library occupies a three-level wing located at the back of Zabriskie House. It features an upper floor with a space for study and listening, a reference area and computer workstations on the main floor, and open stacks with music scores on the lower level. The library's specialized collections support the school's curriculum with a primary emphasis on music performance, music history and literature, music theory, and music pedagogy. The library's print collections include some 13,000 scores and about 5,600 books. The collection of sound recordings includes over 9,000 discs that are supplemented by streamed audio collections accessible online. In addition, the library provides access to music journals (in print and online) as well as a number of electronic databases and reference resources. For more information about the library's holdings and policies, visit the Bakalar Music Library page at www.longy.edu.

Payday is the 15th of every month, and paychecks may be picked up at the Front Desk. Direct deposit is also available. Contact the Business Office for more information.

Open Positions: Students should review the OCE bulletin board for open positions. OCE job openings will also be communicated to students through e-mail.

How to Apply: Students interested in applying for OCE positions must fill out the standardized OCE application form and submit it to the appropriate supervisor. OCE application forms can be found on the OCE bulletin board and in the Academic Affairs Office.

HOUSING NETWORK
Longy is not able to serve as an official roommate placement service, but we are happy to let you know of other Longy students who are also looking for roommates or a place to live. Students seeking housing assistance should fill out and submit the Roommate Request Form available on the Longy website. For other housing resources, visit the housing section of Longy's website.

GIG OFFICE
The Gig Office is a clearinghouse service for students looking for opportunities to perform in greater Boston.
CAREER SERVICES
The Academic Affairs Office can provide information and guidance on a wide variety of career issues and further educational opportunities. Students are welcome to make an appointment with the Dean of the Conservatory or the Director of Admissions and Student Services to discuss their future musical, vocational, and educational goals and the resources available to them.

Longy has a subscription to the Bridge: Worldwide Music Connection service available for all current students; login information can be obtained from the Academic Affairs Office. In addition, notices of job openings, auditions, fellowships, competitions, and summer festivals are posted on various bulletin boards throughout the campus.

Seminars focusing on career and other relevant issues are held throughout the year. Notices of upcoming events will be sent to students via e-mail.

STUDENT ADVISORY COUNCIL
The Student Advisory Council (SAC) holds monthly meetings with the student body to advance ideas and address student concerns. It also sponsors social activities such as a Thanksgiving celebration and the annual Winter Dance. Elections for SAC officers are held each spring. The SAC By-Laws are available from the Student Services Office.

TRANSPORTATION AND PARKING
Longy is a short walk from Harvard Square, one of the Boston area’s major transportation hubs served by the MBTA. For information regarding public transportation options, visit www.mbta.com or call the MBTA at (617) 222-3200. Students who frequently use public transportation can purchase a semester T-Pass, discounted at 11%. Contact the Student Services Office for more information on T-Passes.

There is no parking for students on campus at anytime, and options for student parking near the school are very limited. Most parking near Longy is for Cambridge residents only; non-residents parked in areas requiring a permit will be ticketed. Cars will be towed if parked illegally on street-cleaning days. Metered spaces are available on Massachusetts Avenue, Brattle Street, and around Cambridge Common. Several nearby parking garages offer special rates to the Longy community.
ACCREDITATION
Longy School of Music is an accredited member of the New England Association of Schools and Colleges and the National Association of Schools of Music. Inquiries regarding the status of Longy's accreditation should be directed to the Dean of the Conservatory. Individuals may also contact the New England Association of Schools and Colleges, 209 Burlington Road, Bedford, MA 01730-1433, (781) 271-0022; or the National Association of Schools of Music, 11250 Roger Bacon Drive, Suite 21, Reston, VA 20190, (703) 437-0700.

STUDENTS' RIGHT TO PRIVACY
The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974 (FERPA), also known as the Buckley Amendment, gives currently enrolled students and alumni the right to privacy of records, files, and data held about them by the school on an official basis. In general, Longy cannot release information from a student's record without his or her permission. However, certain types of information, termed Directory Information, can be released without permission unless a student specifically instructs Longy not to do so. Directory Information includes student's name, local and permanent address, local and permanent phone, e-mail address, program and major, dates of attendance and graduation date/status, honors received, class schedule, and photographs and videos. The Act also gives students the right to inspect and review their educational records and to challenge any contents which they feel are inaccurate, misleading, or otherwise in violation of their privacy and other rights. A student who wishes to challenge information held in his or her record or who wishes to have a privacy hold put on his or her account should contact the Associate Dean for Academic Affairs.

NON-DISCRIMINATION AND NON-HARASSMENT POLICY
Harassment and discrimination are illegal. The Longy School of Music (the “School”) supports all employees' and students' right to work and learn in an environment free from all forms of discrimination, including discrimination based on an individual's race, color, age, gender, national origin, ancestry, citizenship, religion, creed, marital status, veteran or military status, sexual orientation, mental or physical disability, genetic information, or any other protected status or characteristic under federal, state or local law. The School prohibits discrimination by any student, employee, faculty member, or other person, including visitors and vendors, in connection with any School-related activity. The School's property (including telephones, copy machines, facsimile machines and computers) may not be used to engage in conduct that violates this policy.

In addition to prohibiting discrimination, the School prohibits any form of unlawful harassment of students or employees based on their status in a protected category, including sexual harassment. Harassment seriously interferes with our goal of creating an atmosphere in which everyone is treated with respect and dignity and will not be tolerated.

Harassment has been defined as:
Conduct that denigrates or shows hostility or aversion toward an individual because of his or her status, or that of his or her relatives, friends or associates, and that (1) has the purpose or effect of creating an intimidating, hostile, or offensive working environment; (2) has the purpose or effect of unreasonably interfering with an individual's work performance; or (3) otherwise adversely affects an individual's employment opportunities.

Depending on the circumstances, the following conduct may constitute discriminatory harassment based on an individual's protected status: epithets, slurs, negative stereotyping, jokes, or threatening, intimidating, or hostile acts, and/or written or graphic material that denigrates or shows hostility towards an individual or group that is circulated in the workplace or placed anywhere in the School's premises such as on an employee's or student's desk or workspace or on School equipment or bulletin boards.

Sexual harassment is a particular form of discrimination that violates both the law and the School policy. Sexual harassment is defined as:

physical conduct of a sexual nature when: (a) submission to such conduct is made either explicitly or implicitly a term or condition of employment or as a basis for employment decisions, or (b) such requests or conduct have the purpose or effect of unreasonably interfering with an individual's work or academic performance by creating an intimidating, hostile, humiliating or sexually offensive work environment.

While it is not possible to list all of those circumstances which constitute sexual harassment, the following are examples of conduct which, if unwelcome, may constitute harassment depending on the circumstances:

- Unwelcome sexual advances, propositions or flirtations — whether they involve physical touching or not;
- Requests for sexual favors in exchange for actual or promised job benefits, financial aid, or other benefits such as favorable reviews, salary increases, better grades, promotions, increased benefits, continued employment, or scholarship support;
- Sexual jokes;
- Use of sexual epithets, written or oral references to sexual conduct, gossip regarding one's sex life; comments about an individual's body; comments about an individual's sexual activity, deficiencies or prowess;
- Displaying sexually suggestive objects, pictures, cartoons;
- Unwelcome leering, whistling, brushing against the body, sexual gestures, suggestive or insulting comments;
- Inquiries into one's sexual experiences;
- Discussion of one's sexual activities; and
- Assault or coerced sexual acts.

While the School hopes that any student or employee who believes that he/she has been harassed or discriminated against will immediately bring the matter to the attention of the School, students and employees also have the right to contact the Massachusetts Commission Against Discrimination (MCAD) and the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission (EEOC), which can be contacted at the phone numbers and addresses listed below. Any complaint of sexual or other harassment or discrimination must be filed with the EEOC or MCAD within three hundred (300) days of the alleged harassing or discriminatory act.

FILING A FORMAL COMPLAINT OF DISCRIMINATION OR HARASSMENT
The School will investigate promptly, thoroughly, and with utmost seriousness cases of discrimination and harassment. Faculty members, administrative staff members, and students are encouraged to report promptly any behavior perceived as discrimination or harassment, utilizing the grievance process outlined below. They may also report such behavior and consult with the following representatives:
To file a formal complaint, the person who is reporting discriminatory or harassing behavior may initiate, as the grievant, the School's grievance process, as set forth in the following.

It is unlawful to retaliate against any individual for filing a complaint of harassment or discrimination or for cooperating in any investigation of such a complaint. The School will not tolerate any retaliation against anyone who in good faith reports or cooperates in an investigation of incidents of alleged harassment or discrimination. If an individual is found to have violated this policy, he or she may be subject to disciplinary action, including, where appropriate, expulsion or termination of employment.

STUDENT GRIEVANCE PROCEDURES
Longy expects that faculty members, students, and administrative staff members will make good-faith efforts to resolve their differences and concerns through direct and open communication.

When a Conservatory student (hereafter “student”) has a conflict or dispute with a faculty or administrative staff member, the student is advised to resolve the issue directly with that faculty or administrative staff member. In addition, students are always encouraged to consult informally with their primary studio instructor or department chair when they have a conflict or dispute. Students are also advised to use and take seriously the course/lesson evaluation forms as a means of communicating an academic concern and providing constructive feedback.

When a complaint cannot be resolved informally, the School has a formal review process detailed below that will allow for a timely and fair resolution of such issues. While the School will strive to treat all grievances as discreetly as practicable, confidentiality cannot be guaranteed.

When embarking upon the grievance process, the student must follow the steps set out below.

Step 1: The student may present his/her concerns verbally or in writing to the appropriate department/program chair or supervisor (the “supervisor”). The supervisor will explore the situation and issue a determination in a timely fashion. If the student is not satisfied with the supervisor's solution, he/she may proceed to Step 2.

Step 2: The student may submit a written or verbal appeal to the Dean of the Conservatory or other appropriate senior staff member. The appeal must contain a complete description of the grounds for appeal, supporting evidence for the appeal, and any other materials that may provide appropriate information regarding the appeal. The dean or senior staff member will render a final, binding decision that will then be communicated in a timely manner to all appropriate parties.

While the above procedures should be followed for all grievances, students should review the School's non-discrimination and non-harassment policy if they feel that they have experienced discrimination or harassment. If the above procedures have not been effective or are not practicable to address a case of discrimination or harassment, the student may bring the matter to the attention of the representative designated in the non-discrimination and non-harassment policy.
NOTICES AND POLICIES

114 CAMPUS SMOKING POLICY
There is no smoking allowed inside the Longy School of Music’s buildings. The designated smoking areas are the benches next to Edward M. Pickman Hall and the Rey-Waldstein building parking lot. Smokers are asked to refrain from smoking anywhere else on the grounds and to place cigarette butts in the receptacles provided.

ANTI-HAZING POLICY
The Massachusetts Board of Higher Education requires all institutions of post-secondary education to comply with its anti-hazing policies, as stated in Massachusetts General Law, Chapter 269, Sections 17-19. Hazing is there defined as “any conduct or method of initiation into any student organization, whether on public or private property, which willfully or recklessly endangers the physical or mental health of any student or other person.” The Longy School of Music will not tolerate any hazing activities. Violators will be subject to disciplinary action, possibly including expulsion. A full copy of the relevant statutes is available from the Associate Dean for Academic Affairs.

DRUG AND ALCOHOL POLICY
Longy is concerned about drug and alcohol abuse with its far reaching effects on individuals, communities, and workplace performance and safety. The School also complies with the federal Drug-Free Workplace Act, which requires an employer who contracts with or receives grants from the federal government to certify to the contracting or funding agency that it maintains a drug-free workplace. In addition, under the requirements of the federal Drug-Free Schools and Community Act, educational institutions must provide drug-free learning environments to students. As part of a good faith effort to comply with these laws, the School has adopted the following policy:

The School expects its students and employees to be free of the influence of drugs and alcohol while they are on campus. It is the School’s intent and obligation to provide a drug-free, healthful, safe, and secure environment. The unlawful manufacture, distribution, dispensation, possession, or use of a controlled substance is prohibited in or on School premises, in vehicles owned or operated by the School, or at any work site or location at which School duties are being performed by a School employee or student. Common examples of controlled substances, as defined by law, include, but are not limited to, cocaine, marijuana, LSD, and heroin.

The Drug-Free Workplace Act makes strict compliance with this policy a condition of employment for School employees. Any employee who is convicted of a violation (which includes a plea of nolo contendere) of any criminal drug law occurring in the workplace must report that conviction to his or her immediate supervisor within 5 days after such conviction.

Within 10 days after receiving notice from an employee or otherwise learning of a drug conviction resulting from workplace activities of any individual engaged in work under grants or contracts funded by a federal agency, the School shall notify the relevant contracting or funding agency that a violation of this policy has occurred.

Any student or employee who engages in prohibited activity, comes to work under the influence of any controlled substance and/or alcohol, or is convicted of any criminal drug law is subject to immediate disciplinary action up to and including immediate termination, as well as possible legal consequences, which may include serious criminal sanctions consistent with federal, state, and local laws. The School also may require students or employees who violate this policy to participate satisfactorily in a drug/alcohol treatment program, counseling, or education program as a condition of reinstatement or continued employment with the School.

Through educational activities and programs or referral to appropriate resources, the School will communicate to the School’s students and employees the dangers of drug and alcohol abuse in the workplace and give information about treatment and counseling options available.
The School recognizes alcohol dependency as an illness and a major health problem. It also recognizes drug and/or alcohol abuse as a potential health, safety, and security problem. Students or employees needing help in dealing with such problems are strongly encouraged to seek appropriate treatment.

Seeking, obtaining, and cooperating in treatment programs for drug or alcohol abuse is the responsibility of the individual. Participation in such treatment programs does not relieve the individual of his/her other responsibility to meet expectations, nor is the School required to pay for any special treatment.

The School takes its obligations under these laws very seriously and expects each student and employee will do the same to maintain a drug-free campus and to provide the high quality performance essential to accomplish the goals of the School.

Substance abuse is potentially harmful to health. For information about substance abuse prevention and treatment, call the Massachusetts Department of Health, Bureau of Substance Abuse Services at (800) 327-5050.

CAMPUS SECURITY REPORTING
Pursuant to the Campus Security Act of 1990, Longy School of Music is required to publish information related to the safety of its campus. This information is distributed annually to its students, faculty, and staff. The information deals with both Longy policies and procedures regarding safety and security and the statistics concerning crimes committed on Longy’s campus. This report is available to all Longy applicants by contacting the Admissions Office.

SAFETY AND CRIME AWARENESS
Longy strives to ensure the safety of its students and its facilities. However, the School’s location in an urban setting requires that students be aware of potentially dangerous situations and take prudent steps to avoid threats to their personal safety or to their belongings. It is not advisable to leave valuables unattended at any time, and Longy is not responsible for items that are lost or stolen.

Reporting crimes and other emergencies: Any type of crime or unusual activities in or around Longy’s facilities should be reported to the evening security guard or the Director of Operations as soon as possible. In the case of an emergency, report immediately to a Longy staff member, who will call 911 for assistance. The public pay telephone in the lower Pickman Hall lobby may be used for emergency calls as well.

Campus facility access: Longy monitors access to the building when it is open. All students, faculty, and staff are issued ID cards and are required to produce them upon demand by any school official. After 5:00 p.m. all persons entering the building must sign in at the security desk.

Any problems with security personnel, lighting, or maintenance that may compromise personal safety or that of the building should be reported to the Director of Operations.

Description of security awareness and crime prevention programs: Students are encouraged to report any thefts or suspicious actions and are warned not to leave any possessions unattended or unsecured for any reason. Longy gives timely notice of crimes which are considered a threat to students and employees to aid in the prevention of similar occurrences through notices posted throughout the building and e-mail alerts.

ELECTRONIC COMMUNICATION SERVICES POLICY
The School utilizes various forms of electronic and digital communications, including e-mail, voicemail, computer networking and Internet access services (together, the School’s “Electronic Communication Services” or “ECS”). This policy is designed to help students understand our expectations for the use of these resources and to help students use them responsibly.

The School’s ECS are business tools for the School, provided at significant cost. Therefore, we expect students to use the ECS access primarily for School-related purposes. Students have no privacy rights in electronic and digital communications transmitted through or stored on the School’s ECS. All computer files, software, data, documents and messages received, transmitted, or stored on the School’s ECS, regardless of the format or place of origin of such files, are subject to access and inspection by the School at any time, without prior notice, at Longy’s sole discretion. Even electronic tracks or messages that have been deleted remain subject to Longy’s review.

Students are prohibited from using Longy’s ECS to transmit harassing, off-color, or otherwise inappropriate messages or remarks; any breach of this prohibition may subject a student to disciplinary measures. To ensure an environment free from discrimination and harassment, Longy reserves the right to review and monitor student usage of the School’s ECS, as stated above. In addition, such data is discoverable by opposing parties in litigation.

All existing School policies apply to students’ Internet and e-mail conduct, including, without limitation, those that deal with non-discrimination and non-harassment and use of School property. Students may never use the Internet or e-mail in any manner that violates the law of the United States or the applicable laws of another nation, state, city, province, or other local jurisdiction. Students may not utilize the internet or e-mail for gambling, trafficking in stolen property, or illegally using copyrighted material. Additionally, Longy prohibits students from viewing, storing, printing, or transmitting any form of offensive, derogatory, inappropriate, or sexually explicit information via the Internet or e-mail.

While our direct connection to the Internet offers a variety of benefits, it can open the door to some significant risks to our data and systems if we do not follow appropriate security discipline. The overriding principal here is that security must be everyone’s first concern.

Students are prohibited from downloading and/or installing any software program or data. No student shall use Longy’s Internet resources to upload or pirate any software licensed to the School. Students are also prohibited from using Longy’s Internet resources to propagate any virus, worm, Trojan horse, trap-door, or similar program or code. Students may not use Longy’s Internet resources to disable or overload any computer system or network, or to circumvent any system intended to protect the privacy or security of another user.

Longy-issued user IDs and passwords help maintain individual accountability for Internet resource usage. Any student who obtains an ID and password for Internet access must keep that password confidential. School policy prohibits the sharing of user IDs and passwords obtained for Internet usage.

AUDIO AND IMAGE RECORDING POLICY

By registering for classes and/or lessons at Longy, you grant the Longy School of Music, and those acting on its behalf, the authorization to:

- Record all students’ participations and appearance on video media, audio media, film, photograph, or any other medium.
- Record all students’ work, including musical compositions, on video media, audio media, film, photograph, or any other medium.
- Use all students’ names, likenesses, voices, and biographical materials in connections with these recordings.

Students who may have commitments to any other person or entity, which would conflict with the rights granted above, are responsible for informing the School in writing of these relationships at the time of registration.
