Curator Note

This music represents a range of emotions that intertwine to tell a story throughout each piece. Connected through melody and imagination, the personalities each piece presents weave a tale formed from one phrase to the next. As humans, we have the capacity to experience such beautiful sentiments - passion, mystery, love, longing, tranquility, intensity. In many cultures, physical beings are believed to have souls, said to hold the core of life, feeling, and thought. I believe that music contours our lives and fills our empty spaces with spirit and color, allowing us to connect to and experience our emotions. In other words... the feeling of life.
